Dear Committee Members,

I currently live and work as a surgeon in France. My retirement is scheduled in three years. The tides of love & life have been such that I chose my life away from home.

But the States (New England) has always been my Home.

Economic times have changed and has left us all in worse situations than before.

As an expat who has always paid my taxes the current citizen based taxation (CBT) is an added weight which I'm having difficulty assuming.

In all fairness, residence based taxation (RBT) should be adopted.

This measure will certainly promote national unity.

Thank you for considering my plea.

Cordially yours,

Claude Frechette
