A customs broker against whom a monetary penalty has been issued under this section shall have a reasonable opportunity under section 618 to make representations seeking remission or mitigation of the monetary penalty. If no response is filed, or the appropriate customs officer determines that the revocation or suspension is still warranted, he shall notify the customs broker in writing of a hearing to be held within 15 days, or at a later date if the broker requests an extension and shows good cause therefor, before an administrative law judge appointed pursuant to section 3105 of title 5, United States Code, who shall serve as the hearing officer. A transcript of the hearing shall be made and a copy will be provided to the appropriate customs officer and the customs broker; they shall thereafter be provided reasonable opportunity to file a post-hearing brief. Following the conclusion of the hearing, the hearing officer shall transmit promptly the record of the hearing along with his findings of fact and recommendations to the Secretary for decision. The Secretary will issue a written decision, based solely on the record, setting forth his findings of fact and the reasons for his decision. Such decision may provide for the sanction contained in the notice to show cause or any lesser sanction authorized by this subsection, including a monetary penalty not to exceed $30,000, than was contained in the notice to show cause.

The Secretary may modify the findings of facts on the basis of the additional evidence presented. (a)(1) The Congress finds that a delicate balance of the interests of the bicycle industry and the bicycle component parts industry has been reached through repeated revision of the Tariff Schedules of the United States so as to allow duty free import of those categories of bicycle component parts which are not manufactured domestically. The Congress further finds that this balance would be destroyed by exempting otherwise dutiable bicycle component parts from the customs laws of the United States through granting foreign trade zone status to bicycle manufacturing and assembly plants in the United States and that the preservation of such balance is in the public interest and in the interest of the domestic bicycle industry.

(2) Section 3 of the Act of June 18, 1934 (commonly known as the Foreign Trade Zones Act (19 U.S.C. 81c)), is amended—

(A) by inserting "(a)" immediately before the first word thereof;

(3) The amendments made by paragraph (2) shall take effect on the fifteenth day after the date of the enactment of this Act.

“(2) BROADCAST UNDERTAKING.—For purposes of paragraph (1), the term ‘broadcast undertaking’ includes (but is not limited to) radio and television stations.”

dividuals employed by the Secretary of the Treasury to provide such customs services).

(c) The Secretary of the Treasury may designate 4 airports under this subsection. An airport may be designated under this subsection only if—

(c) The amendment made by subsection (a) shall take effect after the effective date of any provision of law enacted by the 98th Congress that would, but for this section, limit the authority of the Commission of Customs to reorganize or consolidate any district, regional, or border office of the Service.

(A) such article is an instrument or apparatus (within the meaning of headnote 6(a) of part 4 of schedule 8 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202)), and

(B) no instruments or apparatus of equivalent scientific value for the purposes for which such article is intended to be used is being manufactured in the United States.

(2) For purposes of paragraph 1(B), scientific testing equipment provided by the Max Planck Institute and necessary for aligning, calibrating, or otherwise testing an instrument or apparatus shall be considered to be part of such instrument or apparatus.

SEC. 245. SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING POSSIBLE EEC ACTION ON CORN GLUTEN.

Whereas—

(1) the European Council of Ministers has directed the Commission of the European Community (EC) to initiate consultations with the United States and other interested parties under article XXVIII of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) for the purpose of imposing tariff or tariff quota restrictions on imports of nongrain feed ingredients, including corn gluten feed;

(2) the EC has considered proposals to impose a domestic consumption tax on vegetable fats and oils, which would undermine the intention of the duty-free binding on certain corn and soybean products imported from the United States;

(3) the EC has bound in the GATT that it will impose no import duties on soybeans, soybean meal, corn gluten feed, and other corn by-products, and such zero-tariff bindings were agreed to in return for United States trade concessions to the EC during previous rounds of trade negotiations;

(4) the EC has not demonstrated sound economic justification for restrictions on the import of nongrain feed ingredients and such restrictions would only shift the financial burden of EC Common Agricultural Policy (CAP) reform from the EC to other countries, with negligible improvement in the current EC budget situation;

(5) action by the EC to breach a negotiated concession would severely erode the basic GATT principle of comparative advantage and set a dangerous precedent which could threaten other previously negotiated concessions and serve as a precursor to restrictions on the import of soybeans and soybean products; and

(6) the official position of the United States, as stated by the Secretary of Agriculture, is that there is strong support for the EC efforts to balance the Agricultural budget, but that the United States will oppose any efforts to limit its exports of corn gluten feed to the EC;

it is the sense of Congress that—

(A) the President should continue to firmly oppose the imposition of any restriction on European Community imports of non-grain feed ingredients, including corn gluten, and should support the current duty-free binding on such products;

(B) the President should continue to rigorously oppose any European Community proposals which would violate the intent of the existing duty-free binding in the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade on soybeans and soybean products and reaffirm the United States conviction that the imposition of a consumption tax on vegetable fats and oils by the European Community would represent a restraint of trade; and

(C) if unilateral action is taken by the European Community to restrict or inhibit the importation of either nongrain feed ingredients, including corn gluten feed, or vegetable fats and oils, including soybean products, the United States should act immediately to restrict European Community imports of at least the aggregate value of the reduced and potentially reduced United States export products.

SEC. 246 STUDY ON HONEY IMPORTS.

(a) The Senate finds that—

(1) in 1976 the International Trade Commission found that honey imports threatened serious injury to the domestic honey industry and recommended action to control honey imports,

(2) the domestic honey industry is essential for production of many agricultural crops,

(3) a significant part of our total diet is dependent directly or indirectly on insect pollination, and

(4) it is imperative that the domestic honey bee industry be maintained at a level sufficient to provide crop pollination.

(b) It is the sense of the Senate that the Secretary of Agriculture should promptly request the President to call for an International Trade Commission investigation of honey imports, under section 22 of the Agriculture Adjustment Act.

SEC. 247. COPPER IMPORTS.

(a) The Congress finds that—

(1) the United States International Trade Commission unanimously found that the United States copper producing industry is being seriously injured by copper imports;

(2) worldwide copper prices are at record low levels;

(3) foreign copper producers have increased their copper production in spite of depressed world prices in an effort to meet their external debt obligations;

(4) United States copper production has been reduced by over forty percent and over half of the work force has been laid off;

(5) continuation of the current depressed world price for copper threatens severe economic distress for less developed countries which are dependent on copper exports as their major source of foreign exchange;

(6) the competitiveness of United States copper producers could be enhanced through the investment which could be generated if worldwide copper prices returned to more historically representative levels; and

(7) a balanced reduction in foreign copper production which raises marginally the world price for copper would not disadvantage domestic fabricators by creating a two-tier pricing system.

(b) It is the sense of Congress that the President should negotiate with the principal foreign copper-producing countries to conclude voluntary restraint agreements with those governments for the purpose of effecting a balanced reduction of total annual foreign copper production for a period of between three and five years in order to—

(1) allow the price of copper on international markets to rise modestly to levels which will permit the remaining copper operations located in the United States to attract needed capital, and

(2) achieve a secure domestic supply of copper.

(c) It is the further sense of the Congress that the President should submit a report to Congress, within twelve months of the date of enactment of this Act, explaining—

(1) the results of his negotiations; or

(2) why he felt it was inappropriate or unnecessary to undertake such negotiations.

SEC. 248. DISAPPROVAL OF PRESIDENTIAL DETERMINATIONS UNDER SECTION 203 OF THE TRADE ACT OF 1974.

(a)(1) Section 203(c)(1) of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2253(c)(1)) is amended to read as follows:

“(1) If the President reports under subsection (b) that he is taking action which differs from the action recommended by the Commission under section 201(d)(1)(A), or that he will not provide import relief, the action recommended by the Commission shall take effect (as provided in paragraph (2)) upon enactment of a joint resolution described in section 152(a)(1)(A) within the 90-day period beginning on the date on which the document referred to in subsection (b) is transmitted to the Congress.”

(2) Section 203(c)(2) of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2253(c)(2)) is amended—

(A) by striking out “adoption of such resolution” and inserting in lieu thereof “enactment of the joint resolution referred to in paragraph (1)”, and

(B) by striking out “section 201(b)” and inserting in lieu thereof “section 201(d)”.

(b) Section 152(a)(1)(A) of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2192(a)(1)(A)) is amended by striking out “concurrent resolution” and inserting in lieu thereof “joint resolution”.

(c) Section 330(d)(4) of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1330(d)(4)) is amended by striking out “the concurrent resolution described in such section 152” and inserting in lieu thereof “the joint resolution described in such section 152(a)(1)(A)”.

SEC. 249. SECTION 201 CRITERIA

Section 201(b) of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2251(b)) is amended—

(1) by amending paragraph (2)—

(A) by inserting “(whether maintained by domestic producers, importers, wholesalers, or retailers)” after “inventory” in subparagraph (B), and

(B) by striking out “and” at the end of subparagraph (B),

(C) by striking out the period at the end of subparagraph (C) and inserting in lieu thereof “; and”, and

(D) by adding at the end thereof the following:

“(D) the presence or absence of any factor which the Commission is required to evaluate in subparagraphs (A) and (B) shall not necessarily be dispositive of whether an article is being imported into the United States in such increased quantities as to be a substantial cause of serious injury or threat of serious injury to the domestic industry.”; and

(2) by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

“(7) For purposes of this section, the term ‘significant idling of productive facilities’ includes the closing of plants or the underutilization of production capacity.”

(B) that article is imported directly from Israel into the customs territory of the United States; and

(C) the sum of—

(2) No article may be considered to be an eligible Israeli article by virtue of having merely undergone—

(A) simple combining or packaging operations; or

(B) mere dilution with water or mere dilution with another substance that does not materially alter the characteristics of the article.

(b) As used in this section, the phrase “direct costs of processing operations” includes, but is not limited to—

(1) all actual labor costs involved in the growth, production, manufacture, or assembly of the specific merchandise, including fringe benefits, on-the-job training and the cost of engineering, supervisory, quality control, and similar personnel; and

(b) ITC REPORTS.—In any report by the United States International Trade Commission (hereinafter referred to in this title as the “Commission”) to the President under section 201(d)(1) of the Trade Act of 1974 regarding any article for which a reduction or elimination of any duty is provided under a trade agreement entered into with Israel under section 102(b)(1) of the Trade Act of 1974, the Commission shall state whether and to what extent its findings are recommendations apply to such an article when imported from Israel.

(c) For purposes of subsections (a) and (c) of section 203 of the Trade Act of 1974, the suspension of the reduction or elimination of a duty under subsection (a) shall be treated as an increase in duty.

(d) No proclamation which provides solely for a suspension referred to in subsection (a) with respect to any article shall be made under subsections (a) and (c) of section 203 of the Trade Act of 1974 unless the Commission, in addition to making an affirmative determination with respect to such article under section 201(b) of the Trade Act of 1974, determines in the course of its investigation under that section that the serious injury (or threat thereof) substantially caused by imports to the domestic industry producing a like or directly competitive article results from the reduction or elimination of any duty provided under any trade agreement provision entered into with Israel under section 102(b)(1) of the Trade Act of 1974.

(e)(1) Any proclamation issued under section 203 of the Trade Act of 1974 that is in effect when an agreement with Israel is entered into under section 102(b)(1) of the Trade Act of 1974 shall remain in effect until modified or terminated.

(2) If any article is subject to import relief at the time an agreement is entered into with Israel under section 102(b)(1) of the Trade Act of 1974, the President may reduce or terminate the application of such import relief to the importation of such article before the otherwise scheduled date on which such reduction or termination would occur pursuant to the criteria and procedures of subsections (h) and (i) of section 203 of the Trade Act of 1974.

(b) Within 14 days after the filing of a petition under subsection (a)—

(1) if the Secretary of Agriculture has reason to believe that a perishable product from Israel is being imported into the United States in such increased quantities as to be a substantial cause of serious injury, or the threat thereof, to the domestic industry producing a perishable product like or directly competitive with the imported product and that emergency action is warranted, he shall advise the President and recommend that the President take emergency action; or

(2) the Secretary of Agriculture shall publish notice of his determination not to recommend the imposition of emergency action and so advise the petitioner.

(c) Within 7 days after the President receives a recommendation from the Secretary of Agriculture to take emergency action under subsection (b), he shall issue a proclamation withdrawing the reduction or elimination of duty provided to the perishable product under any trade agreement provision entered into under section 102(b)(1) of the Trade Act of 1974 or publish a notice of his determination not to take emergency action.

“(c)(1) Subject to paragraphs (2) through (8) and subsection (d), whenever the President determines that any country—

“(A) has exported (directly or indirectly) to the United States during a calendar year a quantity of an eligible article having an appraised value in excess of an amount which bears the same ratio to $25,000,000 as the gross national product of the United States for the preceding calendar year (as determined by the Department of Commerce) bears to the gross national product of the United States for calendar year 1974; or

“(B) has exported (either directly or indirectly) to the United States a quantity of any eligible article equal to or exceeding 50 percent of the appraised value of the total imports of such article into the United States during any calendar year;

“(B) If, after any review under subparagraph (A), the President determines that this subparagraph should apply because a beneficiary developing country has demonstrated a sufficient degree of competitiveness (relative to other beneficiary developing countries) with respect to any eligible article, then paragraph (1) shall be applied to such country with respect to such article by substituting—

“(i) ‘1984’ for ‘1974’ in subparagraph (A), and “(ii) ‘25 percent’ for ‘50 percent’ in subparagraph (B).

“(3)(A) Not earlier than January 4, 1987, the President may waive the application of this subsection with respect to any eligible article of any beneficiary developing country if, before July 1 of the calendar year beginning after the calendar year for which a determination described in paragraph (1) was made with respect to such eligible article, the President—

“(5) A country which is no longer treated as a beneficiary developing country with respect to an eligible article by reason of this subsection may be redesignated a beneficiary developing country with respect to such article, subject to the provisions of section 501 and 502, if imports of such article from such country did not exceed the limitations in paragraph (1) (after application of paragraph (2)) during the preceding calendar year.

“(d)(1) Subsection (c)(1)(B) (after application of subsection (c)(2)) shall not apply with respect to any eligible article if a like or directly competitive article is not produced in the United States on January 3, 1985.

“(2) The President may disregard subsection (c)(1)(B) with respect to any eligible article if the appraised value of the total imports of such article into the United States during the preceding calendar year is not in excess of an amount which bears the same ratio to $5,000,000 as the gross national product of the United States for that calendar year (as determined by the Department of Commerce) bears to the gross national product of the United States for calendar year 1979.”

“(A) in cases in which the preliminary determination was negative, the time period within which a final determination must be made shall be extended to 165 days under section 705(a)(1) or 225 days under section 705(a)(2), as appropriate; or

“(ii) will be made in the investigation and the time period within which a final determination must be made shall be extended to 165 days under section 705(a)(2), as appropriate, except that the suspension of liquidation ordered in the preliminary determination shall terminate at the end of 120 days from the date of publication of that determination and not be resumed unless and until the publication of a Countervailing Duty Order under section 706(a).

TITLE VIII—ENFORCEMENT AUTHORITY FOR THE NATIONAL POLICY FOR THE STEEL INDUSTRY

SEC. 801. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the “Steel Import Stabilization Act”.

SEC. 802. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

(a) The Congress finds that—

(1) the United States steel industry has a serious need to modernize its plant and equipment in order to enhance its international competitiveness, and needs increased capital investments to effect that modernization;

(2) the ability of the domestic steel industry to be internationally competitive is, and has been, impeded by the effects of the enormous Federal budget deficit, an overvalued dollar, and increasing trade deficits, as well as serious injury due to imports of, and subsidies, dumping, and the use of other unfair and restrictive foreign trade practices regarding steel products;

(3) the extensiveness of the unfair trade practices engaged in the international market regarding such products imposes unusually harsh burdens on the United States steel industry in combating those practices through the trade remedy laws;

(4) expeditious and effective action under the President’s national policy for the steel industry, including more vigorous efforts by the Executive Branch to self-initiate and pursue remedies against those practices, is needed to eliminate the adverse effects of those unfair trade practices;

(5) import relief will be ineffective and will not serve the national economic interest unless the industry during the period of relief engages in serious efforts substantially to modernize and to improve its international competitiveness; and

(6) full and effective implementation of the national policy for the steel industry will substantially improve the economy and employment in both the steel and iron ore-producing sectors.

(b) The purposes of this title are—

(1) to supplement the authority of the President to achieve the goals of the national policy for the steel industry by granting enforcement powers regarding those bilateral arrangements that are entered into or undertaken for purposes of implementing that national policy; and

(2) to make the continuation of those powers subject to the condition that the steel industry undertake a comprehensive modernization of its plant and equipment.

SEC. 803. SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING THE NATIONAL POLICY FOR THE STEEL INDUSTRY.

It is the sense of the Congress that—

(1) the President should, in conjunction with the authority granted under this title, implement the national policy for the steel industry in a manner to ensure that the foreign share of the United States market for steel products is commensurate with a level which would obtain under conditions of fair, unsubsidized competition; and it is further the sense of Congress that when this policy is fully implemented, it will result in a foreign share of the domestic market of 17.0 to 20.2 percent, subject to such modifications that changes in market conditions and the composition of the steel industry may require;

(2) the national policy for the steel industry should not be implemented in a manner contrary to the antitrust laws; and

(3) if the national policy for the steel industry does not produce satisfactory results within a reasonable period of time, the Congress will consider taking such legislative actions concerning steel and iron ore products as may be necessary or appropriate to stabilize conditions in the domestic market for such products.

SEC. 804. DEFINITIONS.

As used in this title—

(1) The term “bilateral arrangement” means any arrangement, agreement, or understanding (including, but not limited to, any surge control understanding or suspension agreement) entered into or undertaken, or previously entered into or undertaken, by the United States and any foreign country or customs union containing such quantitative limitations, restrictions, or other terms relating to the importation into, or exportation to, the United States of categories of steel products as may be necessary to implement the national policy for the steel industry.

(2) The term “national policy for the steel industry” means those actions and elements described in Executive Communication 4046, dated September 18, 1984 (printed as House Document 98-263).

(3) The term “steel industry” means producers in the United States of steel products.

SEC. 805. ENFORCEMENT AUTHORITY.

(a) Subject to section 806, the President is authorized to carry out such actions as may be necessary or appropriate to enforce the quantitative limitations, restrictions, and other terms agreed to between the United States and steel-exporting nations as contained in bilateral arrangements. Such actions may include, but are not limited to, requirements that valid export licenses or other documentation issued by a foreign government be presented as a condition for the entry into the United States of steel products.

(b)(1) In connection with the provisions of the Arrangement on European Communities' Export of Pipes and Tubes to the United States of America, contained in an exchange of letters dated October 21, 1982, between representatives of the United States and the Commission of the European Communities, including any modification, clarification, extension, or successor agreement thereto (collectively referred to hereinafter as "the Arrangement"), the Secretary of Commerce is authorized to request the Secretary of the Treasury to take action pursuant to paragraph (2) of this subsection whenever he determines that—

(A) the level of exports of pipes and tubes to the United States from the European Communities is exceeding the average of annual United States apparent consumption specified in the Arrangement, or

(B) distortion is occurring in the pattern of United States-European Communities trade within the pipe and tube sector taking into account the average share of annual United States apparent consumption accounted for by European communities articles within product categories developed by the Secretary of Commerce.

Any request to the Secretary of the Treasury pursuant to this subsection by the Secretary of Commerce shall identify one or more categories of pipe and tube products with respect to which action under paragraph (2) is requested.

(2) At the request of the Secretary of Commerce pursuant to paragraph (1), the Secretary of the Treasury shall take such action as may be necessary to ensure that the aggregate quantity of European Communities articles in each product category identified by the Secretary of Commerce in such request that are entered into the United States are in accordance with the terms of the Arrangement.

(3) Nothing in this subsection may be construed as prohibiting the Secretary of Commerce from permitting the importation of additional quantities of specific products in cases where the Secretary determines that conditions of short supply or emergency economic situations related to market demand exist; except that a short supply or emergency economic situation shall not be considered to exist solely because domestic producers are unwilling to supply products at prices below their costs of production (as determined by the Secretary of Commerce).

(c) For purposes of carrying out this title, the Secretary of the Treasury may provide by regulation for the terms and conditions under which steel products may be denied entry into the United States.

SEC. 806. EFFECTIVE PERIOD OF TITLE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 805 shall terminate—

(1) at the close of the fifth anniversary of the effective date of this title; or

(2) at the close of the first, second, third, or fourth anniversary of the effective date of this title, unless the President, before each such anniversary, submits to the Committee on Ways and

Means of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Finance of the Senate (in writing and together with the reasons therefor) an affirmative annual determination described in subsection (b).

(b)(1) An affirmative annual determination is a determination by the President that—

(A) the major companies of the steel industry, taken as a whole, have, during the 12-month period ending at the close of an anniversary referred to in subsection (a)(2)—

(i) committed substantially all of their net cash flow from steel product operations for purposes of reinvestment in, and modernization of, that industry through investment in modern plant and equipment, research and development, and other appropriate projects, such as working capital for steel operations and programs for the retraining of workers; and

(ii) taken sufficient action to maintain their international competitiveness, including action to produce price-competitive and quality-competitive products, to control costs of production, including employment costs, and to improve productivity; and

(B) each of the major companies committed for the applicable 12-month period not less than 1 percent of net cash flow to the retraining of workers; except that this requirement may be waived by the President with respect to a major company in noncompliance, if he finds unusual economic circumstances exist with respect to that company; and

(C) the enforcement authority provided under section 905 remains necessary to maintain the effectiveness of bilateral arrangements undertaken to eliminate unfair trade practices in the steel sector.

(2) For purposes of this subsection—

(A) the term “major company” means an enterprise whose raw steel production in the United States during 1983 exceeded 1,500,000 net tons.

(B) The term “net cash flow” means annual net (after-tax) income plus depreciation, depletion allowances, amortization, and changes in reserves minus dividends and payments on short-term and long-term debts and liabilities.

(3) For purposes of carrying out this subsection, the President shall take into account such information as may be available from the United States International Trade Commission and other appropriate sources relating to the modernization efforts of the steel industry.

SEC. 807. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR WORKER ASSISTANCE PLAN.

Within 6 months after the effective date of this title, the Secretary of Labor shall prepare (in consultation with the Steel Advisory Committee established on November 3, 1983, by the Secretary of Commerce and the Secretary of Labor (48 F.R. 51165)) and submit to the Congress a proposed plan of action for assisting workers in communities that are adversely affected by imports of steel products; which assistance shall include retraining and relocation for former workers in the steel industry who will likely be unable to return to employment in that industry. The plan required under this section shall be based upon existing authorities for providing such assistance, but shall be accompanied by such recommendations for additional statutory authority as the Secretary of Labor considers necessary to carry out the purposes of the plan.

SEC. 808. EFFECTIVE DATE.

This title shall take effect on October 1, 1984.

TITLE IX—WINE TRADE

SEC. 901. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the “Wine Equity and Export Expansion Act of 1984”.

SEC. 902. CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

(a) Congress finds that—

(1) there is a substantial imbalance in international wine trade resulting, in part, from the relative accessibility enjoyed by foreign wines to the United States market while the United States wine industry faces restrictive tariff and nontariff barriers in virtually every existing or potential foreign market;

(2) the restricted access to foreign markets and the continued low prices for United States wine and grape products adversely affect the economic position of our Nation’s winemakers and grape growers, as well as all other domestic sectors that depend upon wine production;

(3) the competitive position of United States wine in international trade has been weakened by foreign trade practices, high domestic interest rates, and unfavorable foreign exchange rates;

(4) wine consumption per capita is very low in many major non-wine producing markets and the demand potential for United States wine is significant; and

(5) The United States winemaking industry has the capacity and the ability to export substantial volumes of wine and an increase in United States wine exports will create new jobs, improve this Nation’s balance of trade, and otherwise strengthen the national economy.

(b) The purposes of this title are—

(1) to provide wine consumers with the greatest possible choice of wines from wine-producing countries;

(2) to encourage the initiation of an export promotion program to develop, maintain, and expand foreign markets for United States wine; and

(3) to achieve greater access to foreign markets for United States wine and grape products through the reduction or elimination of tariff barriers and nontariff barriers to (or other distortions of) trade in wine.

SEC. 903. DEFINITIONS.

For purposes of this title—

(1) The term “Committees” means the Committee on Way and Means of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Finance of the Senate.

(2) The term "grape product" means grapes and any product (other than wine) made from grapes, including, but not limited to, raisins and grape juice, whether or not concentrated.

(3) The term "major wine trading country" means any foreign country, or group of foreign countries, designated as such under section 904.

(4) The phrase "nontariff barrier to (or other distortion of)", in the context of trade in United States wine, includes any measure implemented by the government of a major wine trading country that either gives a competitive advantage to the wine industry of that country or restricts the importation of United States wine into that country.

(5) The term "Trade Representative" means the United States Trade Representative.

(6) The term "United States wine" means wine produced within the customs territory of the United States.

(7) The term "wine" means any fermented alcoholic beverage that—

(A) is made from grapes or other fruit;

(B) contains not less than 0.5 percent alcohol by volume and not more than 24 percent alcohol by volume, including all dilutions and mixtures thereof by whatever process produced; and

(C) is for nonindustrial use.

SEC. 904. DESIGNATION OF MAJOR WINE TRADING COUNTRIES.

(a) The Trade Representative shall designate as a major wine trading country each foreign country, or group of foreign countries represented as an economic union, that, in the judgment of the Trade Representative—

(1) is a potential significant market for United States wine; and

(2) maintains tariff barriers on nontariff barriers to (or other distortions of) trade in United States wine.

(b) In deciding, for purposes of subsection (a)(2), whether a foreign country or group of countries maintains nontariff barriers to (or other distortions of) trade in United States wine, the Trade Representative shall take into account—

(1) the review and report required under section 854(a) of the Trade Agreements Act of 1979 (19 U.S.C. 2135 note);

(2) such relevant actions that may have been taken by that country or group since that review was conducted; and

(3) such information as may be submitted under section 906 by representatives of the wine and grape products industries in the United States, as well as other sources.

SEC. 905. ACTIONS TO REDUCE OR ELIMINATE TARIFF AND NONTARIFF BARRIERS AFFECTING UNITED STATES WINE.

(a) The President shall direct the Trade Representative to enter into consultations with each major wine trading country to seek a reduction or elimination of that country's tariff barriers and nontariff barriers to (or other distortions of) trade in United States wine.

(b)(1) the President shall notify each of the Committees regarding the extent and effect of the efforts undertaken since the submission of the report required under section 854(a) of the Trade Agreements Act of 1979, and during the 12-month period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act, to expand opportunities in each major wine trading country for exports of United States wine. Such notification, which shall be in the form of a separate written report (that must be submitted within 30 days after the close of that 12-month period) for each major wine trading country, shall include—

(A) a description of each act, policy, and practice (and of its legal basis and operation) in that country that constitutes a tariff barrier or nontariff barrier to (or other distortion of) trade in United States wine (and that description shall be based upon an updating of the report that was submitted to the Congress under section 854(a) of the Trade Agreements Act of 1979);

(B) an assessment of the extent to which each such act, policy, or practice is subject to international agreements to which the United States is a party;

(C) information with respect to any action taken, or proposed to be taken, under existing authority to eliminate or reduce each such act, policy, or practice, including, but not limited to—

(i) any action under the Trade Act of 1974, and

(ii) any negotiation or consultation with any foreign government;

(D) if action referred to in subparagraph (C) was not taken, an explanation of the reasons therefore; and

(E) recommendations to the Congress of any additional legislative authority or other action which the President believes is necessary and appropriate to obtain in elimination or reduction of foreign tariff barriers or nontariff barriers to (or other distortions of) trade in United States wine.

(2) The reports required under paragraph (1) shall be developed and coordinated by the Trade Representative through the interagency trade organization established by section 242(a) of the Trade Expansion Act of 1962.

(c) If the President, after taking into account information and advice received under subsections (a) and (b), section 906 or from other sources, determines that action is appropriate to respond to any act, policy or practice of a major wine trading country constitutes a tariff barrier or nontariff barrier to (or other distortion of) trade in United States wine and—

(1) is inconsistent with the provisions of, or otherwise denies benefits to the United States under, any trade agreement; or

(2) is unjustifiable, unreasonable, or discriminatory and burdens or restricts United States commerce; the President, shall take all appropriate and feasible action under the Trade Act of 1974 to enforce the rights of the United States under any such trade agreement or to obtain the elimination of such act, policy, or practice.

SEC. 906. REQUIRED CONSULTATIONS.

The Trade Representative shall consult with the Committees and with representatives of the wine and grape products industries in the United States—

(1) before identifying tariff barriers and nontariff barriers to (or other distortions of) trade in United States wine and designating major wine trading countries under section 1004;

(2) in developing the reports required under section 1005(b); and

(3) for purposes of determining whether action by the President is appropriate under any provision of the Trade Act of 1974 with respect to any act, policy, or practice referred to in section 1005(b)(1).

SEC. 907. UNITED STATES WINE EXPORT PROMOTION.

In order to develop, maintain, and expand foreign markets for United States wine, the President is encouraged to—

(1) utilize, for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1985, the authority provided under section 135 of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1982 to make available sufficient funds to initiate, in cooperation with nongovernmental trade associations representative of United States wineries, an export promotion program for United States; and

(2) request, for each subsequent fiscal year, an appropriation for such a wine export promotion program that will not be at the expense of any appropriations requested for export promotion programs involving other agriculture commodities.

And the House agree to the same.

Addition of new provision for "motor fuel blending stock" at motor fuel rates of duty resulting in a further reduction of duty for certain benzenoid chemicals.

Senate bill

Amends TSUS to add of tariff-rate quota of 190,000,000 pounds per year for naphthas derived from petroleum, shale oil, natural gas, or combinations thereof, containing by weight over 5 percent of benzenoid products, provided for in TSUS item 407.16, at below quota rates of 0.25 cent per gallon (col. 1) and 0.5 cent per gallon (col. 2).

Conference agreement

The conferees agreed to delete the provision. Both bills contained provisions relating to the tariff classification and treatment of naphtha products. In addition, the House bill would have created a new tariff item for "motor fuel blending stock."

Due to the unusual complexity of the products involved, the conferees determined that neither provision would accomplish the purposes intended by the respective Houses. The conferees therefore concluded that the Committee on Finance and the Committee on Ways and Means would request the International Trade Commission to conduct a study of the tariff classification and treatment of the entire range of products potentially affected by a reclassification of any naphtha, benzenoid chemical, or motor fuel blending stock. The Congress will better be able to address the proper method of classification after such a study is completed. Further, the study may shed particular light on the difficulties which gave rise to the motor fuel blending provision in the House bill. A significant amount of trade had developed recently with regard to these products, which has now been cast into doubt by a reclassification decision by the Customs Service. That decision is now being reviewed, and the decision of the conferees to deter consideration of this matter should not be interpreted to reflect on this proceeding in any way.

The conferees agreed to delete the provision.

Section : Certain parts for spindle motors

House bill

House bill

Makes comprehensive changes to the Tariff Act of 1930 with respect to the licensing of customs brokers. The legislation defines the term "customs business" and restricts the scope of Customs' review of customs brokers to such customs business. It also specifies that only licensed brokers may conduct customs business for third parties; sets forth licensing and permit procedures; establishes a duty for customs brokers to exercise responsibility and control over their customs business; and provides disciplinary proceedings, including monetary penalties and revocation or suspension of licenses or permits.

Senate bill

Substantially identical to House provision, except that House bill contains an exception to the requirement that each broker have at least one licensed customs broker in each customs district in which he operates, and the House bill contains a 180 day grace period with respect to this requirement while the Senate period is 120 days.

Section 245: Sense of Congress regarding possible EEC action on corn gluten

House bill

Expresses the sense of the Congress that the President should continue to oppose firmly the imposition by the European Community (EC) of any restrictions of EC imports of nongrain feed ingredients, including corn gluten, and should support the current duty-free binding on such products. The section would also express the sense of Congress that the President should continue to oppose rigorously any EC proposals which would violate the intent of the existing duty-free binding in the GATT on soybeans and soybeans products, and reaffirm the U.S. conviction that imposition of a consumption tax on vegetable fats and oils by the EC would represent a restraint of trade.

Subject: Controlled Substances Provisions (Section 211 of House Bill)

Present law

Presently, there are three principal forfeiture statutes used against illegal drug activity. They are "in rem" proceedings under civil forfeiture as provided in 21 U.S.C. 881, and in "personam" proceedings under criminal forfeiture in the Continuing Criminal Enterprise Statute (21 U.S.C. 848) and the Racketeer Influenced Corrupt Organization Statute (18 U.S.C. 1963).

House bill

The House bill would amend title 21 of the United States Code in order to substantially increase the maximum fines for drug offenses, provide the sanction of criminal forfeiture for all felony drug offenses and facilitate procedures for both civil and criminal forfeitures.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conferrence agreement

House recesses.

Subject: Customs Seizures and Forfeitures

(Section 212 of House Bill)

[Section 212 of the Bill Contains a Number of Amendments to the Tariff Act of 1930 Relating to Customs Seizure and Forfeiture. These Provisions were Passed Earlier by the House as Title II of H.R. 4901, the Comprehensive Drug Penalty Act]

1. "Aircraft" Additions

Present law

Although not specifically mentioned, aircraft are subject to forfeiture provisions of the Tariff Act pursuant to 49 U.S.C. 1509 and Customs regulations.

House bill

Amends sections 602, 605, 606, and 607 of the Tariff Act to expressly include "aircraft" in the coverage of these sections.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

The conferees agreed to the House provision.

2. Availability of Administrative Forfeitures

Present law

Section 607 provides for administrative rather than judicial forfeiture proceedings if the value of the vessel, vehicle, merchandise or baggage does not exceed $10,000, or if merchandise is prohibited. Notice of the seizure and intent to forfeit must be published for 3 successive weeks.

House bill

Raises the value of property which can be administratively forfeited to $100,000. However, for prohibited merchandise and conveyance, including aircraft, used to import, export or otherwise transport controlled substances, there would be no limit. Notice requirement is expanded to require written notice and description of procedures be sent to interested parties.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

The conferees agreed to the House provision.

3. Bond Requirement for Judicial Forfeiture

Present law

Section 608 allows any person claiming an interest in a seized vessel, vehicle, merchandise or baggage to judicially contest any forfeiture by filing a claim and giving a bond in the amount of $250.

House bill

Raises the amount of the bond which must be posted to judicially contest a forfeiture to $2500 or 10 percent of the value of the claimed property, whichever is lower, but not less than $250.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

The conferees agreed to the House provision.

4. Deposit of Proceeds in Customs Forfeiture Fund

Present law

Section 609 provides that if no claim is filed or bond given within twenty days, the seized property may be sold at public auction and the proceeds (less expenses) deposited in the U.S. Treasury.

House bill

During the period beginning on the date of enactment and ending September 30, 1987, all proceeds of sale (after deducting expenses) be deposited in the Customs Forfeiture fund.

Senate bill

No Provision.

Conference agreement

The conferees agreed to the House provision.

5. Judicial Forfeiture

Present law

Section 610 specifies procedure for Customs to follow for judicial forfeiture if the value of the seized vessel, vehicle, merchandise or baggage is greater than $10,000.

House bill

Makes conforming changes to provide for judicial forfeiture procedures "IF any vessel, vehicle, aircraft, merchandise, or baggage is not subject to section 607 of this Act" (i.e., the value of the article is greater than $100,000 and was not a conveyance used to import, export, transport or store any controlled substance).

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

The conferees agreed to the House provision.

6. Explicit Reference to Aircraft

Present law

Although not specifically mentioned, aircraft are subject to forfeiture provisions of the Tariff Act, pursuant to 49 U.S.C. 1509 and Customs regulations.

House bill

Amends section 611 of the Tariff Act to expressly include "aircraft" in the coverage of the section.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

The conferees agreed to the House provision.

7. Summary Sale

Present law

Section 612 authorizes Customs to sell at auction any seized vessel, vehicle, merchandise or baggage if it is "liable to perish or to waste or to be greatly reduced in value by keeping or if the expense in keeping it will be disproportionate to the value thereof." If the value of the article exceeds $10,000, Customs must petition the Court to obtain permission to sell at auction.

House bill

Makes explicit reference to aircraft and makes conforming changes so that judicial approval of a sale at auction of the seized article is required "if the article is not subject to section 607 of this Act". Also adds a new subsection providing: "(b) if the expense of keeping the vessel, vehicle, aircraft, merchandise or baggage is disproportionate to the value thereof, and such value is less than $1,000, such officer may proceed forthwith to order, destruction or other appropriate disposition of such property under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

The conferees agreed to the House provision.

8. Disposition of Proceeds of Forfeited Property

Present law

Section 613(a) allows for persons claiming an interest in forfeited property which has been sold to apply for a remission of the forfeiture and restoration of proceeds of such sale. It also provides for the proceeds of sale after payment of designated expenses of forfeiture and sale and satisfaction of liens to be deposited with the U.S. Treasury as a Customs or navigation fine.

House bill

Makes explicit reference to "aircraft" and other conforming changes. Also provides that the proceeds of sale would be deposited in the general fund of the U.S. Treasury.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

The conferees agreed to the House provision.

9. Customs Forfeiture Fund

Present law

There is currently no provision for a Customs Forfeiture Fund. The proceeds of sale of forfeited property are disposed of in accordance with section 613 described above. Under that section the costs in handling each seizure are deducted from the proceeds of that seizure, if any. The resulting "net proceeds" are then transferred to the general fund in the U.S. Treasury. But if the proceeds do not exceed the expenses, the agency must cover the expenses out of its regular budget.

House bill

Adds a new section 613A establishing a Customs Forfeiture Fund in the U.S. Treasury, to be available to the U.S. Customs Service, subject to appropriation, during the period from date of enactment until September 30, 1987, with respect to Customs' seizures and forfeitures under any law enforced or administered by it for the payment of—

- (1) certain expenses of forfeiture and sale;
- (2) payment of awards of compensation to informers under section 619.
 - (a) liens for freight, charges and contributions in general average, notice of which has been filed with the appropriate Customs officer according to the law; and
 - (b) other liens against forfeited property;
- (4) payment of amounts authorized by law with respect to remission and mitigation;
- (5) payment for equipping for law enforcement functions of forfeited vessels, vehicles, and aircraft retained as provided by law for official use by the U.S. Customs Service;
- (6) claims of parties in interest to property disposed of under section 612(b) of this Act, in the amounts applicable to such claims at the time of seizure.

The fund would also be available for the purchases of evidence of violations of specified criminal Acts.

All proceeds from forfeitures would be deposited in the fund (after reimbursement of expenses under section 524 of this Act) during the period from date of enactment to September 30, 1987. Unneeded funds are to be invested and reports to the Congress of receipts and expenditures are required within four months of the close of the fiscal year. Appropriations from the fund are limited to $10 million for each fiscal year. At the end of each fiscal year any amount in the fund in excess of $10 million will be deposited in the general fund and at the end of fiscal year 1987, the fund will be terminated and all excess funds deposited in the general fund of the U.S. Treasury.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

The conferees agreed to the House provision.

Amends sections 614 and 615 to expressly include "aircraft" in the coverage of those sections.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

The conferees agreed to the House provision.

11. Transfer of Forfeited Property

Present law

Under current law, no authority exists for the Federal Government to discontinue Federal forfeiture proceedings where state or local forfeiture proceedings are being considered.

House bill

A new section 616 entitled "Transfer of Forfeited Property" provides that the Secretary of the Treasury may discontinue forfeiture proceedings under the Act in favor of forfeiture under state law after the proper filing of complaints by the Attorney General, and the United States shall not be liable for property forfeited under the Act to any State or local law enforcement agency which participated directly in the seizure or forfeiture.

House bill

Raises the maximum level of compensation which can be paid to informers to $250,000, but it is still limited to 25 percent of the net proceeds and makes explicit reference to "aircraft."

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

The conferees agreed to the House provision.

13. Explicit Reference to Aircraft

Present law

Although not specifically mentioned, aircraft are subject to forfeiture provision of Tariff Act, pursuant to 49 U.S.C. 1509 and Customs regulations.

House bill

Amends section 618 to expressly include "aircraft" in the coverage of the sections.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

The conferees agreed to the House provision.

14. Enforcement Authority of Customs Officers

Present law

Present Customs authority is limited to arrests with a warrant for any Federal offense and warrantless arrests for narcotics, marijuana (26 USC 7606), for navigation, seizure and revenue offenses (19 USC 1581) and a variety of conservation, wildlife and pollution laws. They do have the authority to carry a firearm and to execute and serve any warrant, order, subpoena, etc., issued under the authority of the United States (26 USC 7607).

House bill

Creates a new section 589 which increases the authority of Customs officers to make arrests without a warrant for those offenses against the United States committed in his presence and for those felonies which the officer has reasonable grounds to believe are or have been committed and to perform other law enforcement duties designated by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Senate bill

No provision.

The conferees agreed to the House provision.

SUBJECT: AMENDMENTS RELATING TO SECTIONS 201-203 OF THE TRADE ACT OF 1974 (IMPORT RELIEF)

(Sections 252, 258 and 309 of the Senate Bill)

1. Amendments to section 201 (sec. 252 of Senate bill)

1. a. Serious injury criteria

Present law

In judging the existence of serious injury, the International Trade Commission (ITC) considers relevant economic factors, including (but not limited to) idling of productive facilities, inability of firms to operate profitably, and unemployment in the industry.

House bill

No provision

Senate bill

Would add to the economic factors to be considered "any significant increase in the volume or share of total imports attributable to domestic producers in the industry."

Conference agreement

Senate recedes.

1. b. Threat of serious criteria

Present law

In judging the existence of a threat of serious injury, the ITC considers relevant economic factors, including (but not limited to) a decline in sales, higher and growing inventory, and a downward trend in production, profits, wages or employment in the industry.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Would add to the economic factors to be considered by clarifying that a decline in sales is to be measured in terms of articles that are like or directly competitive with the imported article, that a higher or growing inventory may exist whether maintained by domestic producers, importers or retailers, and by adding new criteria: an upward trend in imports or sales for importation and an upward trend in the volume or share of total imports attributable to domestic producers.

Conference agreement

House recedes with an amendment deleting sections 2(b)(i), (iii), (iv), and (v), and adding the word "wholesale" after "importers" in section 2(b)(ii).

1. c. Substantial cause criteria

Present law

In judging substantial cause, the ITC considers relevant economic factors, including (but not limited to) an increase in imports and a decline in the proportion of the domestic market supplied by domestic producers.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Would clarify that increasing imports are a factor in judging substantial cause regardless of whether imports are attributable to domestic producers in the industry.

Conference agreement

Senate recesses.

1. d. Role of imports in defining industry

Present law

In determining the domestic industry producing a like article, the ITC may exclude imports by a domestic producer.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Would require that the Commission exclude imports by a domestic producer in determining the domestic industry.

Conference agreement

Senate recesses.

1. f. Definition of relevant economic factors

Present law

In making its injury determination, the ITC is required to take into account all economic factors which it considers relevant.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Would preclude the ITC from considering any of the following factors in judging injury although they could be considered by the Commission in recommending relief and by the President in acting on that recommendation:

1. Effectiveness of relief, efforts to adjust to import, and other considerations relative to the position of the industry in the nation's economy.
2. Effect of import relief on consumers and on domestic competition.
3. Effect of import relief on U.S. international economic interests.
4. Effect on U.S. industries of compensation obligations incurred by granting relief.

Conference agreement

Senate recesses.

1. g. Role of profits in injury finding

Present law

The Commission may find that imports are a substantial cause of serious injury or threat thereof based, inter alia, on the profitability (or absence thereof) of domestic firms.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Would specify that the fact that the domestic industry is profitable does not preclude an injury finding.

Conference agreement

House recedes with amendment specifying that the presence or absence of any factor listed in section (201)(b)(2) is not dispositive of injury.

1. h. Probative significance of "captive imports"

Present law

The ITC may treat imports by domestic producers as evidence of the adjustment to competition which is encouraged by the statute.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Would require the ITC to treat imports by domestic producers as one factor in judging injury rather than as evidence of adjustment.

Conference agreement

Senate recedes.

1. i. Role of plant closings

Present law

The Commission is not required to consider plant closings in its analysis.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Would require the Commission to take account of the effect of plant closings on production, employment, capacity, capacity utilization, or domestic profits.

Conference agreement

Senate recedes.

The Senate approved amendments to section 201 of the Trade Act in response to the decision of the International Trade Commission in the non-rubber footwear case. These amendments reflected Senate dissatisfaction with the ITC's interpretation of section 201 in the nonrubber footwear case. The Senate amendments were intended to clarify congressional intent by elaborating on the language of section 201.

This amendment is intended to make clear that the presence or absence of any one factor shall not necessarily provide decisive guidance to the Commission in its determination of serious injury. It is possible, for example, that the surviving firms in an industry will be profitable, even though large numbers of firms within the industry have closed and large numbers of workers have lost their jobs. Accordingly, the Commission should not treat the industry's profit data as dispositive, but should go on to give careful consideration to the plant closings and employment trends in assessing the condition of the industry.

The Managers also believe that the Commission should, wherever possible, exclude profits derived from captive imports from the operations of the domestic industry. Profits from captive imports do not necessarily reflect the condition of production operations in the United States. Indeed, the decision of domestic producers to turn to foreign outsourcing may result in a loss of jobs and consequently have an adverse impact on employment or underemployment under subsections (b)(2)(A) and (b)(2)(B).

2. Analysis of Economic Impact of Import Restrictions Recommended under Section 201(d) (sec. 258 of Senate bill)

Present law

No provision.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Would require the ITC report submitted to the President pursuant to section 201(d) to be submitted to the Council of Economic Advisers (CEA); would require the CEA to submit to the President and Congress within 30 days a report analyzing effect of ITC recommendations on prices, on revenues, on employment in the industry seeking protection, on consumers and on other industries, on the the U.S. balance of payments and on U.S. competitiveness.

Conference agreement

Senate recedes.

3. Disapproval of Presidential Determinations under Section 203 of the Trade Act of 1974 (sec. 309 of Senate bill)

Present law

If the President fails to follow the recommendation of the ITC on import relief, the ITC's recommendation will take effect 90 days after the President sends his determination to Congress if each house approves a concurrent resolution, pursuant to expedited procedures under section 152, disapproving the President's determination.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Would conform current procedures to the Supreme Court's Chadha ruling by substituting joint for concurrent resolutions. As a result, such joint resolutions disapproving the President's determinations could be vetoed by the President.

Conference agreement

House recesses.

Subject: Negotiations on Restraint of Copper Production

(Sec. 254 of Senate Bill)

Present law

No provision.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Requires that the President initiate negotiations with governments of copper-producing countries to conclude voluntary restraint agreements which reduce foreign copper production for 3-5 years to allow copper prices to rise to levels with which U.S. producers can compete.

Conference agreement

House recesses with an amendment to change the provision to a Sense of the Congress that the President should negotiate with the principal foreign copper producing countries and submit a report to the Congress (1) explaining the results of his negotiations or (2) why he felt it was inappropriate or unnecessary to undertake such negotiations.

TITLE III: INTERNATIONAL TRADE AND INVESTMENT ACT

Senate Bill: (Sec. 301-308 and Sec. 255)

House Bill: Title XI (Services Industries Commerce Development)

1. Negotiating Authority

Present law

No specific authority.

House bill

Provides specific negotiating authority to reduce or eliminate barriers to or distortions of international trade in services, and to develop dispute settlement procedures to reduce or eliminate such barriers.

Senate bill

Would provide specific negotiating authority:

(a) to reduce or eliminate barriers to or distortions of international trade in services and to develop internationally agreed rules, including dispute settlement procedures, to reduce or eliminate such barriers;

(b)(1) to reduce or eliminate artificial or trade distorting barriers to foreign direct investment and the development of rules, including dispute settlement procedures to ensure the free flow of foreign direct investment, and the reduction or elimination of the trade-distortive effects of certain investment related trade measures;

(2) to seek the elimination or reduction of foreign export performance requirements for which purpose the USTR would be authorized to impose import restriction (including the exclusion of products subject to such requirements.)

(c)(1) to maintain and preserve openness of trade and investment in high technology products and related services, to eliminate or reduce distorting effects of foreign government actions which distort high technology trade; and

(2) to obtain reduction, or elimination of all tariffs and barriers on U.S. exports of high technology products, to obtain commitments to foster national treatment and to provide minimum safeguards for the acquisition and enforcement of intellectual property rights.

In pursuing objectives (a) and (b)(1), U.S. domestic objectives (e.g., health and safety, environment, etc.) shall be taken into account.

Conference agreement

House recedes with amendments to Senate negotiating objectives on services and definition of barriers regarding restrictions on establishment; technical amendment to Senate domestic objectives on services and investment; amendment pertaining to prospective application of export performance requirements.

2. Trade Negotiating Advice from advisory Committees

Present law

Provides for advice from the private sector.

House bill

Would authorize establishment of intergovernmental advisory committees.

Senate bill

Similar provision.

Conference agreement

Senate recedes.

3. Trade Estimates and Reports on Barriers

Present law

Annual report on trade agreements program and import relief and adjustment assistance for workers, firms, and communities.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Would require annual national trade estimates on significant barriers to the exportation of U.S. goods and services and restriction on U.S. foreign direct investment; USTR required to identify, through TPC, significant barriers of distortions, estimate their impact, and report actions taken to eliminate barriers; consultations with congressional committees required on trade policy priorities to enhance market opportunities; report required within 1 year of enactment and annually thereafter.

Conference agreement

House recedes.

4. Retaliatory Authority

Present law

Provides that action may be taken against the products or services of the foreign country or instrumentality involved; President may modify trade agreement concessions and impose duties or other import restrictions.

House bill

President's authority clarified to impose restrictions on services. May restrict terms and conditions, or deny issuance of any service sector access authorization (e.g., license permit, order that allows a foreign supplier of services access) notwithstanding any other provision of law.

Applies to prospective authorizations only.

Senate bill

Would clarify President's authority by substituting "goods" for "product" and "sector" for "service"; President's authority may be exercised without regard to whether or not such goods or sector were involved in the act, policy or practice identified; President's authority clarified to impose fees or restrictions on services notwithstanding authority of other provisions of law; President authorized to propose "fast track" legislation as part of his retaliatory powers.

Conference agreement

Senate recedes to House provision on use of service sector access authorization with modifications with respect to consultations and clarifying language. Senate recedes to House on definition of service sector access authorization.

House recedes to Senate on clarification of authority to impose fees on foreign services with technical amendment.

Senate recedes to House on "fast-track".

House recedes to Senate on cross-sectoral authority, substitution of 'goods' for 'products' and 'sector' for 'service'.

The change in term from "services" to "sector" is intended solely to reflect the President's ability to exercise his authority under section 301 in response to unfair foreign practices on investment, as well as goods and services.

The Conferees recognize that at the Federal level most services are subject to the regulation of independent agencies. For example, telecommunications is regulated by the Federal Communications Commission and trucking is regulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

As a result, such services enter the U.S. market, not at ports of entry as do goods, but rather upon the receipt of a license, permit or other authorization issued by the appropriate regulatory authority.

For this reason, the Conferees believe the authority granted in section 304(c) of the Conference Agreement is important for the President to be able to impose effective restrictions on foreign service firms in the domestic U.S. market should he determine such restrictions are needed.

The authority under this subsection is intended to apply only to retaliatory action relating to services. Existing retaliatory authority with respect to imported goods should be used when action against foreign goods is contemplated. The authority under this subsection should only be used with respect to goods potentially subject to services access authorization to the extent that actions involving services must be taken with respect to goods associated directly with those services.

5. Definition of Commerce

Present law

Services associated with international trade.

House bill

Services associated with international trade.

Senate bill

Would include foreign direct investment by U.S. persons with implications for trade in goods and services.

Conference agreement

House recedes.

6. Definition of unreasonable, unjustifiable and discriminatory

Present law

Undefined.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Would define:

(a) "unreasonable" as any act, policy, or practice which, while not necessarily in violation of or inconsistent with the international legal rights of the United States, is otherwise deemed to be unfair and inequitable, including, but not limited to, any act, policy, or practice which denies fair and equitable (A) market opportunities; (B) opportunities for the establishment of an enterprise; or (C) provision of adequate protection of intellectual property rights;

(b) “unjustifiable” as any act, policy, or practice which is in violation of, or inconsistent with, the international legal rights of the United States, including, but not limited to, any act, policy, or practice described above which denies national or most-favored-nation treatment, the right of establishment, or protection of intellectual property rights;

(c) “discriminatory” where appropriate as any act, policy, or practice which denies national or most-favored-nation treatment to United States goods, services, or investment.

Conference agreement

House recedes.

7. Initiation of Section 301 Petitions

Present law

President may take action as a result of petition-initiated investigation, or on his own motion.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Would authorize USTR to self-initiate section 301 investigations as a foundation for advice to President.

Conference agreement

House recedes.

8. Initiation of International Consultations

Present law

The Conferees do not intend that the definition of services which appears in section 306 of the Conference Agreement to be exhaustive. Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

House provision.

2. Scope of Authority to Enter Into Trade Agreements Modifying or Eliminating Tariff and Nontariff Trade Barriers. (sec. 402 of House bill; sec. 401 of Senate bill)

Present law

The President has no authority to proclaim tariff reductions, increases, or modifications. The President’s basic tariff negotiating authority, set forth in section 101 of the Trade Act of 1974 expired in 1979; more limited “residual” authority, contained in section 124 of the Act expired in 1982.

The President is authorized by section 102(b) of the Act to negotiate trade agreements harmonizing, reducing, or eliminating nontariff trade barriers. This authority expires January 3, 1988. The authority merely provides for expedited consideration by the Congress of any agreement negotiated pursuant to it, if the President follows the procedures the authority prescribes.

House bill

a. Authorizes the President to enter into a trade agreement with Israel providing for

- (1) duty-free entry of Israeli products, and
- (2) the harmonization, reduction, or elimination of nontariff trade barriers.

b. No provision.

Senate bill

a. Amends section 102(b) and 102(g) to authorize the President to negotiate trade agreements harmonizing, reducing, or eliminating tariff, as well as nontariff, trade barriers, provided that any such agreement that would eliminate or reduce tariffs may be entered into only with Israel or Canada. If any other country requests such negotiations, the President must notify the Finance and Ways and Means Committees at least 60 days before the 90 day notification and consultation period required by current law before the President enters into the agreement (as a condition of expedited Congressional consideration). If either committee disapproves of the negotiation of such agreement, before that 60-day period expires, then the President could not submit the agreement for expedited consideration by the Congress.

b. Tariff agreements with Israel must take into account products benefitting from a discriminatory preferential arrangement and the preference has been the subject of a GATT dispute settlement proceeding initiated by the United States.

Conference agreement

Senate provisions, except that the 90-day prior notification and consultation requirement would not apply to Israel and trade agreements with Canada would be subject to the same 60-day prior disapproval provision as other countries.

3. Procedures for Implementing Agreements (sec. 402 of House bill; sec. 401 of Senate bill)

Present law

The procedures for congressional consideration of any agreement negotiated under section 102 include the "fastrack" procedures set forth in sections 102(c)-(f) and 151-154 of the Trade Act of 1974.

In general, these procedures provide for notification of Congress 90 days before the President enters into an agreement; submission of the agreement and implementing legislation for Congressional approval after the agreement is entered into; and approval or disapproval by both Houses within 60 days.

House bill

The President may proclaim any tariff changes resulting from such an agreement. However, the President must submit any nontariff barrier provision of the agreement for Congressional approval under the procedures of section 102 of the trade Act.

Senate bill

Same as current law for nontariff barrier agreements negotiated under the section 102 authority. Thus, both tariff and nontariff matters would be subject to Congressional approval.

Conference agreement

Senate provisions.

4. Limitation of Most-Favored-Nation Benefits (sec. 406 of House bill; sec. 401 of Senate bill)

Present law

Certain U.S. treaties may be interpreted to extend automatically to the other party, by virtue of most-favored-nation provisions, any tariff or other trade benefit accorded by the United States to any other country.

House bill

Provides that no trade benefit shall be extended to any country by reason of an agreement with Israel entered into under this authority.

Senate bill

Same as House bill, except includes any agreement with Canada.

Conference agreement

Senate provision amended to apply to any agreement entered into under the authority.

5. Rules-of-origin (sec. 403 of House bill; sec. 401 of Senate bill)

Present law

In general, an imported article is treated for customs purposes as originating where it was wholly grown, produced, or manufactured. If further work in another country "substantially transforms" the article, then it is considered a product of the other country.

The Caribbean Basin Initiative, although not applicable here, is an example of legislation containing more specific rules. An eligible product is one imported directly from a beneficiary country and containing at least 35 percent cumulative local value-added, 15 percent of which can be of U.S. origin. Value is the sum of the cost or value of materials plus the direct cost of processing in the beneficiary country or countries. Products merely packaged or combined in the country, or merely diluted by a liquid that does not materially alter the article's essential character, do not qualify.

House bill

a. Incorporates the same rules of origin for Israeli products that were specified in the Caribbean Basin Initiative legislation.

b. Treasury must consult with USTR before issuing regulations to carry out these origin rules.

Senate bill

a. Requires that any agreement with Israel meet requirements "similar" to that in the CBI.

b. No provision.

Conference agreement

a. Senate recedes.

b. Senate recedes.

6. Temporary Import Relief as Exception to Duty-free Treatment. (Sec. 404 of House bill; sec. 401 of Senate bill)

Present law

Sections 201-203 of the Trade Act of 1924 authorize the President to impose quotas, tariffs, or to negotiate export restraints in order to provide relief to an industry for which the International Trade Commission has determined that increasing imports are a substantial cause of serious injury or a threat thereof. Relief may be for up to 5 years, and may be extended after the initial period for up to 3 more years.

Section 232 of the Trade Expansion Act of 1962 authorizes the President to take such action as he deems necessary to adjust imports of articles that are being imported in such quantities or under such circumstances as to threaten to impair the national security.

House bill

a. Provides that the President may proclaim duties for Israeli products in accord with actions taken under section 203 of the Trade Act or section 232 of the Trade Expansion Act.

Senate bill

- a. No provision.

House bill

b. Authorizes the President to suspend duty-free treatment for Israeli products that the ITC determines are the substantial cause of serious injury to the industry which seeks relief under section 201.

Senate bill

- b. No provision.

House bill

c. Further provides that section 201 relief in effect when the Israel government becomes effective shall remain in effect until modified or terminated. Further, the President may reduce or terminate the application of the existing relief to the article.

Senate bill

- c. No provision.

Conference agreement

- c. Senate recedes.

7. Perishable Products (Sec. 405 of House bill; sec. 401(d) of Senate bill)

Present law

The CBI legislation provides that with regard to section 201 cases involving perishable commodities, the President, within 21 days of application to the Secretary of Agriculture and upon the Secretary's recommendation, may withdraw duty-free treatment of the commodity until a final negative determination by the ITC or a decision by the President regarding relief or until changed circumstances. Perishable products are (1) live plants; (2) fresh or chilled vegetables; (3) fresh mushrooms; (4) fresh fruit; (5) fresh cut flowers; and (6) concentrated citrus fruit juices.

House bill

Requires that any U.S.-Israel trade agreement incorporate the same emergency relief provision as contained in the Caribbean Basin Initiative legislation.

Senate bill

Requires that implementing legislation contain emergency relief provisions for perishable products similar to that in the CBI legislation. "Perishable products" are:

- (1) vegetables;
- (2) edible nuts and fruits;
- (3) fresh cut flowers; and
- (4) concentrated citrus fruit juice.

Conference agreement

Senate recedes with an amendment to include the products in its definition of perishable products.

8. Section 22 Fees (sec. 405(f) of House bill)

Present law

Section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act authorizes the imposition of the import fees and quotas on products rendering ineffective (or tending to do so) a domestic price support program.

House bill

Duty reductions proclaimed as a result of the U.S.-Israel trade agreement shall not affect section 22 fees.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

Senate recesses.

9. Relationship of Other Trade Laws (sec. 406 of House bill)

Present law

Import relief is authorized under section 232 of the Trade Expansion Act of 1962 for national security reasons; under the Tariff Act of 1930 as a remedy for unfair trade practices; and under the Trade Act of 1964 for adjustment purposes or to respond to certain unfair trade practices not otherwise covered in the 1930 Act.

House bill

Implementation of U.S.-Israel trade agreement may not affect the application of laws authorizing relief from import competition.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

Senate recesses.

10. U.S.-Canada Commission (Sec. 402 of Senate bill)

Present law

No provision.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Amends section 612(b) of Trade Act of 1974 to authorize President to seek establishment of joint commission to resolve trade and other economic issues between the United States and Canada.

Conference agreement

Senate recesses.

TITLE V: GENERALIZED SYSTEM OF PREFERENCES (AMENDMENTS TO TITLE V, TRADE ACT OF 1974)

1. Title and Purposes (sec. 501 of Senate and House bills)

Present law

No provision.

House bill

Entitled "Generalized System of Preferences Renewal Act of 1984" and outlines 10 specific purposes.

Senate bill

Same provision except no specific references to intellectual property rights or internationally recognized worker rights.

Conference agreement

House provision.

1. Basic Authority and Time Limits

2. a. Authority (sec. 502 of House bill; sec. 503 of Senate bill)

Present law

Sec. 501 authorizes President to extend duty-free treatment to eligible articles as described below. President "shall have due regard for":

1. effect of such action on furthering country's economic development;
2. extent to which comparable actions taken by other developed countries, and
3. anticipated impact on such action on competing U.S. products.

House bill

Adds, phrase, "through the expansion of their exports" to the end of paragraph (1) and a new criterion (4): "the extent of the beneficiary developing country's competitiveness with respect to eligible articles."

Senate bill

Includes paragraph on country's competitiveness; does not include amendments to paragraph (1)

Conference agreement

House provision.

2. b. Time Limit (sec. 506 of House bill; sec. 502 of Senate bill)

Present law

No duty-free treatment shall remain in effect after January 3, 1985 and report on program's operation must be filed after 5 years under sec. 505.

House bill

Extends expiration date until 1/3/90 and requires the President to submit a report to Congress before that date on the operation of program and annual reports on the status of internationally recognized worker rights within each beneficiary developing country.

Senate bill

Extends program to 1/3/95 and does not require reports.

Conference agreement

Program extended for 8½ years.

House provisions on reports.

With respect to the reports on workers rights, the Conferees note that the President already submits an annual report to Congress under section 116(d) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 prepared by the Department of State and Labor on human rights. It is the Conferees' intent that the information required under section 505(c) be included as a separate section in that annual report. Furthermore, the report should address specifically the extent that each of the rights included in the statutory definition of internationally recognized worker rights is respected within each beneficiary developing country.

3. Eligible Countries (sec. 503 of House bill; sec. 504 of Senate bill)

3a. ProcedurePresent law

President designates BDCs under sec. 502(a) by executive order after notifying Congress; same for termination.

House bill

Adds definition of term "internationally recognized worker rights" to include—

“(A) the right of association;

“(B) the right to organize and bargain collectively;

“(C) a prohibition on the use of any form of forced or compulsory labor;

“(D) a minimum age for the employment of children; and

“(E) acceptable conditions of work with respect to minimum wages, hours of work, and occupational safety and health.”

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

House provisions.

It is the intention of the Conferees that this definition of internationally recognized worker rights be interpreted to be commensurate with the development level of the particular country, but that each element of the definition be reviewed with respect to the determination required by section 503(c)(3) of this bill.

3b. Mandatory criteriaPresent law

Certain named developed countries are ineligible under sec. 502(b) for benefit as are OPEC members and Communist countries, unless they are GATT and IMF members and not dominated by international communism, and countries providing preferential treatment to another developed country unless such preferences have no significant adverse effects.

House bill

Hungary deleted from list of ineligible developed countries.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

House provisions.

3c. Mandatory criteria, subject to national interest waiver

Present law

Unless the President determines that designation of eligibility would be in the national economic interest, despite failure to comply with the following conditions, a country also is ineligible under sec. 502(b) for GSP benefits if—

1. it has taken actions which have the effect of nationalizing, expropriating or otherwise seizing control of U.S. citizens' property without providing adequate compensation;
2. it fails to cooperate with the United States in interdicting unlawful narcotics traffic;
3. it fails to recognize or enforce arbitral awards in favor of U.S. citizens; or
4. it aids or abets international terrorism by granting sanctuary to international terrorists.

House bill

Makes explicit that provisions relating to nationalization, expropriation and seizure of property (sec. 502(b)(4) (A), (B) and (C)) include "patents, trademarks, or copyrights" and adds following new criteria:

"(8) if such country has not taken or is not taking steps to afford internationally recognized worker rights to workers in the country (including any designated zone in that country)."

Senate bill

Identical provision on intellectual property rights; does not include provision on worker rights.

Conference agreement

House provisions.

The Conferees recognized that although the new subparagraph (8) language will become immediately effective, it will be difficult to make the determinations it requires because the first report required by section 506 will not be completed until 1986. The Conferees expect the President to make his determinations under this section according to the best information available to him.

3.d. Factors to be taken into account

Present law

In determining whether to designate a country as a GSP beneficiary, the President must take into account the following factors under sec. 502(c) before designation:

1. the desire of the country to receive benefits;
2. the level of the country's economic development;
3. whether other developed countries are extending benefits to the country; and
4. the extent to which the country has provided assurances of equitable and reasonable access to its markets and basic commodity resources.

House bill

Adds the following three new factors:

"(5) the extent to which such country is providing adequate and effective means under its laws for foreign nationals to secure, to exercise, and to enforce exclusive rights in intellectual property, including patents, trademarks, and copyrights;

"(6) the extent to which such country has taken action to reduce trade distorting investment practices and policies (including export performance requirements), and reduce or eliminate barriers to trade in services"; and

"(7) whether or not such country has taken or is taking such steps to afford workers in that country (including any designated zone in that country) internationally recognized worker rights".

Senate bill

Identical new criteria (5); identical criteria (6) on investment but does not include references to barriers to trade in services; does not include criteria (7) relating to worker rights; and amends criteria (4) by adding the phrase "and the extent to which such country has assured the U.S. that it will refrain from engaging in unreasonable export practices."

Conference agreement

Combines House and Senate provisions.

4. Eligible Articles

4a. Regulations on rules-of-origin (sec. 503 of House bill)

Present law

Secretary of Treasury has authority under section 503(b) to prescribe regulations to carry out GSP rules-of-origin.

House bill

Requires the Secretary of Treasury to consult with USTR before prescribing regulations governing GSP rule-of-origin requirements.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

House provision.

4b. Ineligible articles (sec. 504 of House bill; sec. 505 of Senate bill)

Present law

The following import-sensitive articles may not be designated under sec. 503(c) for GSP eligibility:

1. Textile and apparel articles subject to textile agreements;
2. watches;
3. import-sensitive electronic, steel, and glass products;
4. certain footwear articles; and
5. any other article the President determines is import-sensitive in the context of GSP.

House bill

The exclusion for footwear is expanded to cover "footwear, handbags, luggage, flat goods, work gloves, and leather wearing apparel which were not eligible articles for purposes of this title on April 1, 1984".

Senate bill

Identical provision except the existing exclusion for certain footwear in subparagraph (E) is retained. Deletes watches from the list of ineligible articles.

Conference agreement

House provision.

5. Limitations on Preferential Treatment (sec. 505 of House bill; sec. 506 of Senate bill)

5a. Study and report

Present law

Sec. 504(a) authorizes President to withdraw, suspend, or limit duty-free treatment for any eligible article or beneficiary country and requires withdrawal or suspension of beneficiary designation if after designation, circumstances change so that country does not meet initial designation criteria.

No provision.

House bill

Requires President to—

Submit report to the Congress by 1/4/87 on the application of secs. 501 and 502(c) and the actions he has taken to withdraw, suspend, or limit benefits for failure to take actions described in sec. 502(c); and Conduct a general review of eligible articles based on initial designation criteria under secs. 501 or 502(c), to be completed by 1/4/86, and renewed periodically thereafter.

Senate bill

Similar provision, except report is not due until 1/4/88, and requires particular emphasis on country's efforts to—

1. provide market access;
2. protect intellectual property rights; and
3. reduce trade-distorting investment practices and policies.

Similar provision, except first review must be completed not later than 1/4/87.

Conference agreement

Senate provisions on report and review dates; does not include Senate provisions on particular emphasis requirement.

5b. Competitive need limits

1. Basic limits.

Present law

Under sec. 504(c), a particular beneficiary country is eligible for GSP treatment on a particular article within 90 days after the close of a calendar year if its exports to the U.S. in that calendar year exceeded either—

A. a dollar amount set by a formula based on growth in U.S. GNP (the 1983 limit was about $57 million); or

B. 50 percent of the total value of U.S. imports of the article.

House bill

Retains basic competitive need limits.

Senate bill

Identical provision.

Conference agreement

Identical provisions.

2. Graduation, cutback and waiver authority

Present law

Discretionary authority under sec. 504(a) to withdraw, suspend or limit benefits; no authority to waive competitive need limits, except in special circumstances applicable only to the Philippines.

House bill

Beginning on January 4, 1986, cutbacks and waivers authorized for 3 groups of countries as described below:

Countries with $9,000 GNP—Mandatory graduation for all articles over a maximum period of two years, then country no longer considered a BDC.

No waiver authority.

Countries with 10% share of GSP duty-free imports or $5,000 GNP—Mandatory cutback in competitive need limits for all articles (from $57 million/50% to $25 million/25%).

President may waive cutbacks and restore the original competitive need limits on article-by-article basis after (1) receiving ITC advice on whether any industry is likely to be adversely affected; (2) determining a waiver is in the national economic interest based on secs. 501 and 502(c) criteria (including market access, intellectual property rights protection and internationally negotiated worker rights); and (3) publishing his determination.

All Other Countries.—Presidential discretion to reduce competitive need limits (from $57 million/50% to $25 million/25%) on article-by-article basis if country has “demonstrated a sufficient degree of competitiveness” in such article.

President may waive limits on article-by-article basis but total waivers above present competitive need levels cannot exceed 25 percent of total U.S. GSP duty-free imports.

Senate bill

Beginning on January 4, 1987, cutbacks and waivers are authorized as follows:

Presidential discretion to reduce competitive need limits (from $57 million/50% to $25 million/25%) on article-by-article basis if country "demonstrated a sufficient degree of competitiveness" in such article.

After two years (i.e., when the above product review is completed), competitive need limits may be waived if the President (1) receives ITC advice on whether any U.S. industry is likely to be adversely affected; (2) determines a waiver is in the national economic interest based on the basic designation criteria under sections 501 and 502(c) and; (3) publishes his determination.

In making his national interest determination, the President must give great weight to (1) assurances of equitable and reasonable market access to the beneficiary country, and (2) the extent the country provides adequate and effective intellectual property rights protection.

Conference agreement

House recedes on cutback authority, with an amendment requiring graduation of countries with $8,500 GNP (indexed annually to 50 percent of change in U.S. GNP), phased out over two-year period.

Senate recedes on waiver authority with an amendment limiting total waivers for all countries above present competitive need levels to maximum 30 percent of total GSP free imports, of which maximum of one-half may apply to countries with 10 percent share of total GSP free imports or $5,000 GNP, and requiring great weight to particular factors in national interest determination.

5 c. Exceptions to application of competitive need limits

1. Philippines exception

Present law

Competitive need limits do not apply if waived by President because he finds:

A. an historical preferential trading relationship with the country exists;

B. there is a trade agreement to which the country and the U.S. are parties; and

C. the country does not impose unreasonable or discriminatory barriers to U.S. commerce.

House bill

Waiver authority is retained for the Philippines, subject to the country criteria above.

Senate bill

Waiver authority is retained, but subject to reduction in competitive need limits on article basis above.

Conference agreement

Senate provision.

Senate bill

The 50-percent-of-imports competitive need limit (after application of subsection (c)(2)) does not apply if a like or directly competitive article was not produced in the United States on January 3, 1985.

TITLE VI: AMENDMENT TO THE COUNTERVAILING DUTY (CVD) AND ANTIDUMPING (AD) LAWS

1. Clarification of Coverage (likely sales, leasing) (sec. 711 of House bill; secs. 210, 716, 717, 718, of Senate bill).

Present law

Section 701(a) states the general rule that a CVD shall be imposed where (1) the administering authority finds a subsidy with respect to merchandise "imported into the United States" and (2) the ITC finds that an industry is materially injured or threatened with such injury "by reasons of imports of that merchandise." Section 731 requires the administering authority to determine in AD investigations that "foreign merchandise is being, or is likely to be sold in the United States at less than its fair value". [Emphasis added]

House bill

a. Amends section 701(a) and 705(b)(1) to clarify that the CVD and AD laws cover sales and likely sales, as well as imports that have already occurred; amends sections 701(a) and 731 to include certain leases.

b. No provision.

b. Amends sections 702 and 732 to add a special rule that the existence of sales for future delivery or irrevocable offers to sell may be basis for an affirmative CVD or AD determination.

c. Amends sections 702 and 732 to add a special rule that the absence of a history of imports in sufficient volume to be a present cause of injury shall not be a basis for not initiating an investigation, if a sufficient allegation of threat of injury is made.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision with modifications. The modifications are the deletion of references in the Senate provision to sections 703(a) and 733(a) and section 702 and 732.

2. Settlement Agreement Authority

Present law

The administering authority may suspend a CVD or AD investigation under section 704(b) or 734(b) at any time before its final determination if the government of the subsidizing country agrees, or exporters who account for substantially all of the imports of the subsidized or dumped merchandise agree (1) to eliminate the subsidy completely or to offset completely the amount of the net subsidy on exports to the United States within six months after the suspension; (2) to raise the price completely to eliminate any dumping margin; or (3) to cease exports of the merchandise to the United States within six months after the suspension. No CVD or AD suspension agreement can be accepted unless the quantity exported during the 6-month period will not exceed the quantity exported during the most recent representative period.

2.a. Offsets (sec. 712 of House bill; sec. 705 of Senate bill)

House bill

Eliminates the authority to suspend CVD investigations based on offsets of net subsidies by the foreign government or exporters.

Senate bill

Requires verification of any amount, including offsets, subtracted from gross subsidy to determine net subsidy.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision.

2. b. 6-month grace period (sec. 712 of House bill)

House bill

Removes the 6-month grace period for eliminating subsidies or dumping margins under suspension agreements.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to strike the House provision.

2. c. Quantitative restriction agreements (sec. 712 of House bill; sec. 611 of Senate bill)

Present law

In "extraordinary circumstances," the administering authority may suspend a CVD investigation under section 704(c) before its final determination upon acceptance of an agreement from the government to eliminate completely the injurious effects, which may take the form of a quantitative restriction agreement to restrict the volume of imports. Before suspending any CVD or AD investigation, sections 704(e) and 734(e) require the administering authority to (1) notify and consult the petitioner of its intention, and give 30 days advance notice to other parties and to the ITC; (2) provide a copy and explanation of the proposed agreement to the petitioner; and (3) permit all parties to submit comments and information. No form of suspension agreement can be accepted unless the administering authority is satisfied suspension is in the public interest and effective U.S. monitoring of the agreement is practicable. Upon withdrawal of the petition the administering authority may terminate a CVD or AD investigation under section 704(a) or 734(a) after notice to all parties to the investigation; law does not specify basis or criteria.

House bill

Requires the administering authority to take various public interest factors (impact on consumer prices, supplies international interests, industry competitiveness), into account and consult with potentially affected consumers, industries, producers, and workers prior to deciding whether to terminate or suspend CVD investigations or to terminate AD investigations based on quantitative restriction agreements.

Senate bill

Permits comments on any form of proposed CVD and AD suspension agreements from all interested parties, rather than only all parties to the investigation.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to both House and Senate provisions.

2. d. AD quantitative restriction agreements (sec. 713 of Senate bill)

Present law

In "extraordinary circumstances," the administering authority may suspend an AD investigation under section 734(c) before its final determination upon acceptance of an agreement to revise prices from exporters accounting for substantially all of the imports that will eliminate completely the injurious effects, prevent domestic price suppression or undercutting, and the dumping margin for each entry of each exporter does not exceed 15 percent of the weighted average margin for all entries of the exporter. Unlike CVD cases, the administering authority is not authorized to suspend AD investigations on the basis of quantitative restriction agreements.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Authorizes AD quantitative restriction agreements with governments or exporters on imports if they will eliminate the injurious effects; provides authority to prescribe regulations to enforce the limits.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to strike the Senate provision.

2. e. Termination of investigations (sec. 610 of Senate bill)

Present law

No specific provision.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Authorizes the administering authority to terminate CVD or AD investigations it self-initiates.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision.

2. f. Notification of Customs (sec. 712 of House bill)

Present law

No provision.

House bill

Requires notification of the Commissioner of Customs if the administering authority considers violation of an agreement to be intentional.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the House provision.

3. Negotiation, Expiration of Quantitative Restriction Agreements (sec. 713 of House bill)

Present law

Section 751(b) requires the administering authority or the ITC to review any suspension agreement or affirmative determinations whenever it receives information or a request showing changed circumstances sufficient to warrant a review. If the ITC determines a suspension agreement no longer eliminates completely the injurious effect of imports, the administering authority and the ITC proceed with the investigation as if the agreement had been violated on that date. No provision of present law requires negotiations to eliminate the subsidy or dumping margin while the agreement is in effect, or imposition of CVDs or AD duties upon its expiration equal to any remaining injurious subsidy or dumping.

House bill

a. Requires that within 90 days after any quantitative restriction agreement is in effect the President enter negotiations with foreign governments to seek complete elimination of the subsidy or dumping practices or of their injurious effects; agreement can only be modified within one year if actions taken are satisfactory and public comment taken into account.

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

b. CVD or AD duties in the amount of any residual subsidy or dumping margin on injurious imports may replace the quantitative restriction agreement if it expires.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the House provision on item 3 with a modification by requiring consultations rather than negotiations.

4. Persistent Dumping Procedure (sec. 714 of House bill)

Present law

Section 732(a) requires the administering authority to self-initiate an AD investigation whenever it determines, from information available to it, that a formal investigation is warranted. There is no formal requirement regarding monitoring of products subject to existing AD orders to determine whether self-initiation with respect to additional suppliers is warranted.

House bill

Establishes a procedure for the administering authority and the ITC to monitor imports from additional supplier countries for up to one year in order to determine whether self-initiation of additional dumping cases is warranted.

For monitoring to be required, three conditions must be met: (1) there has been a prior case on the product within the previous two years resulting in final affirmative determinations of dumping and injury; (2) the petitioner must file a formal petition on imports of the same product from another country; (3) the subsequent petition must also allege the elements necessary to impose AD duties exist on the same product, imported or likely to be imported, from one or more additional supplier countries.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the House provision with certain modifications, which would permit the administering authority in its discretion to monitor allegedly dumped imports from additional supplier countries.

5. "Natural Resource Subsidies" (sec. 715 of House bill)

Present law

Any domestic subsidy described in section 771(5) may be subject to a CVD action if it is provided or required by government action to a specific enterprise, industry, or group thereof. Thus, a domestic subsidy involving natural resources may be countervailed, if it meets the specific industry test and is a subsidy of the kind described in section 771(5).

House bill

Includes "natural resource subsidies" under CVD law if they meet the following conditions: (1) a government-regulated or controlled entity sells natural resource products to its own producers at prices which, by reason of such regulation or control are lower than the export price or the fair market value in the exporting country, whichever is appropriate; (2) the internal price must not be one which is freely available to U.S. producers for purchase and export to the U.S. market; and (3) the resource product must constitute a significant portion of the production costs of the final product subject to the investigation. The level of a natural resource subsidy for CVD purposes is the difference between the domestic price and the export price of the natural resource product; if there are no significant exports or the export price is distorted by government manipulation, the administering authority must measure the subsidy by comparing the domestic price to the "fair market value".

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to strike the House provision.

6. "Upstream Subsidies" (sec. 715 of House bill; sec. 710 of Senate bill)

Present law

Section 771(5) defines the term subsidy as having the same meaning as the term "bounty or grant" as that term is used in section 303 of the Tariff Act of 1930, including, but not limited to, specific export and domestic subsidy practices listed. This term has never been explicitly defined to include or exclude subsidies bestowed on products at prior stages of manufacture or production. The list of domestic subsidies under section 771(5) does not explicitly refer to subsidies at prior stages, but does not refer to indirect subsidies. Recent decisions by the Department of Commerce have indicated some degree of coverage of subsidies at prior stages of manufacture or production.

House bill

a. Defines an "upstream subsidy" as a practice described in present law which (1) is paid or bestowed by a government on a product subsequently used to manufacture or produce in that country merchandise which itself becomes the subject of either a CVD or AD investigations; (2) results in a price for the intermediate product lower than the generally available price of that product in that country (adjusted to offset artificial depression due to any subsidies or dumping); and (3) has a significant effect on the cost of manufacturing or producing the final merchandise. The amount of such subsidy included in any CVD or AD duty on the final product is equal to the difference between the price for the intermediate product and the generally available price of that product in that country, adjusted for any artificial price depression.

Senate bill

a. Definition of upstream subsidy is the same. However, the provision is narrower in scope because the administering authority would only be required to investigate and assess upstream subsidies in CVD cases, rather than in both CVD and AD cases.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to a modified provision which would (1) substitute for generally available price determination a determination that the upstream subsidy in the judgment of the administering authority bestows a competitive benefit on the merchandise; (2) provide greater discretion in adjusting for artificial price depression by referring to prior Commerce Department determinations; (3) establishes "reasonable grounds to believe" standard for Commerce Department investigations; and (4) permits extension of time period to enable Commerce Department to fully investigate upstream subsidy cases.

House bill

b. Foreign countries organized into any customs union would be treated as one country.

Senate bill

b. Customs unions would be treated as one country if the subsidy is provided by the customs union.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision.

The provision does not affect the basic definition of subsidy in any way. The potential for an upstream subsidy exists only when a sector-specific benefit meeting all other criteria for being a subsidy is provided to the input producer. Further, the provision is limited to subsidies bestowed by the country in which the final product is manufactured.

7. "Downstream Dumping" (sec. 715 of House bill; sec. 712 of Senate bill)

7. a. Definition

Present law

No provision.

House bill

If a product subjects to a CVD or AD investigation includes materials or components: (1) which are dumped (i.e., sold below their foreign market value); (2) with a purchase price lower than their generally available price (adjusted to offset artificial depression due to any subsidies or dumping) in the country where the final product is manufactured; and if (3) the resulting price difference has a significant effect on the cost of manufacturing or producing the merchandise under investigation, an amount attributable to "downstream dumping" would be added to the CVD or AD duty on the final product, calculated as the difference between the purchase price of the input and its generally available price (adjusted, if appropriate, for artificial depression) in the country producing the final product.

Senate bill

Same definition of downstream dumping in substance, but narrower in scope since it applies only to merchandise subject to AD investigation rather than in both CVD and AD cases. In downstream dumping cases, required determination of the constructed value of the final product, including the amount of downstream dumping in the calculation of the cost of materials or components. That amount cannot be greater than the amount by which the foreign market value of the input exceeds its purchase price.

Conference agreement

The conferees agreed to strike the House provision and the Senate provision.

7. b. Time periodsPresent law

Administering authority must make preliminary determination (PD) under section 731 within 160 days after petition filed (within 210 days if case extraordinarily complicated). Final determinations under section 735 must be made within 75 days after PD, or 135 days if postponed by request.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Extends the time period for preliminary determinations (PD) in AD cases from 160 to 250 days (from 210 to 310 days in complicated cases) after the petition is filed, if the administering authority concludes such additional time is necessary to determine downstream dumping.

Extends time period for final determinations. (FD), if the administering authority finds it necessary for downstream dumping determination, from 75 to 165 days (from 135 to 225 days if postponed) if PD on downstream dumping was negative. If PD was affirmative, final determination on downstream dumping need not be made until conclusion of the first annual review of the AD order; or, at the option of the petitioner, the time period for FD is extended to 165 or 225 days to include downstream dumping determination, but the suspension of liquidation terminates 120 days from the PD and cannot be resumed until publication of an AD order.

Conference agreement

The Conference agreed to strike the House provision and the Senate provision.

8. Cumulation (sec. 715 of House bill; sec. 703 of Senate bill)

Present law

Under section 771(B) the ITC, in making its determination of material injury, is required to assess both the volume of imports of the merchandise subject to investigation and the consequent effects of such imports. The decision to cumulate is made on a case-by-case basis and is solely within the discretion of each individual Commissioner. This practice has neither been ratified nor prohibited by statute.

House bill

Requires that the ITC cumulatively assess the volume and effect of imports from two or more countries of like products subject to investigation if the imports compete with each other and with like products of the domestic industry in the U.S. market.

Senate bill

Requires cumulation of imports from countries subject to final orders, as well as countries under investigation, if the ITC determines (1) the marketing of such imports is reasonably coincident, and (2) imports from each source have contributed to the overall material injury.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the House provision. The provision requires cumulation of imports from various countries that each account individually for a small percentage of total market penetration but when combined may cause material injury. The conferees do intend, however, that the marketing of imports that are accumulated be reasonably coincident. Of course imports of like products from countries not subject to investigation would not be included in the cumulation.

9. "Threat of Material Injury" Criteria (sec. 715 of House bill; sec. 704 of Senate bill)

Present law

In making material injury determinations the ITC must consider, among other factors on a case-by-case basis, (1) the volume of imports of the merchandise, (2) the effect of such imports on prices in the United States for like products, and (3) the impact of such imports on domestic producers of like products. In determining whether there is a threat of material injury in CVD investigations, the ITC must consider such information as may be presented by the administering authority on the nature of the subsidy and the effects likely to be caused by the subsidy. There are no other factors specified in present law for determining the threat of material injury.

House bill

Adds criteria the ITC must consider in determining whether there is a probability the merchandise (whether or not actually being imported at the time) will be the cause of actual injury based on any demonstrable adverse trend, including such factors as:

- (1) an increase in production capacity in the exporting country likely to result in a significant increase in exports of the merchandise to the United States;
- (2) a rapid increase in the U.S. market penetration and the likelihood such penetration will increase to an injurious level;
- (3) the likelihood that imports will enter at prices that will have a depressing or suppressing effect on domestic prices; or
- (4) a substantial increase in inventories in the United States.

Senate bill

Same provision in substance, except:

- (1) also includes any increase in existing unused capacity;
- (2) refers to "probability" instead of the "likelihood";

Includes two additional factors for consideration:

- (1) the presence of underutilized capacity for producing the merchandise in the exporting country; and
- (2) the potential for product-shifting if production facilities owned or controlled by foreign manufacturers which can be used to produce products subject to AD or CVD investigations or final orders are also used to produce the merchandise under investigation.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to strike the House provision.

This provision provides guidance to the ITC for its determination of threat of material injury. The provision lists certain factors to be considered by the ITC in assessing whether dumped or subsidized import pose a real and imminent threat to the U.S. industry.

The Managers believe that an effective threat of material injury provision is a vital element of the antidumping and countervailing duty laws of the United States. The purpose of the threat provision is to prevent actual material injury from occurring.

As stipulated in the legislative history of the Trade Agreements Act of 1979, determination on the basis of threat cannot be made on the basis of mere supposition and conjecture, and sufficient information must exist for concluding that the threat of injury is real and actual injury is imminent.

The Managers recognize that the projection of future events is necessarily more difficult than the evaluation of current data. Accordingly, a determination of threat will require a careful assessment of identifiable current trends and competitive conditions in the marketplace. This will require the ITC to conduct a thorough, practical, and realistic evaluation of how it operates, the role of imports in the market, the rate of increase in unfairly traded imports, and their probable future impact on the industry. This assessment may show, for example, that the volume of unfairly traded imports is increasing and that industry is vulnerable to future harm. Alternatively, it may show that imports are not likely to increase to an injurious level or that the industry is able to sustain relatively high levels of import competition without apparent harm.

10. Interested Parties (sec. 715 of House bill; secs. 604, 708 of Senate bill)

Present law

Section 771(9) defines the term "interested party" for standing to file petitions on particular merchandise as (1) a foreign manufacturer, producer, or exporter, or U.S. importer, or a trade or business association, a majority of whose members are importers; (2) the foreign government; (3) a manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler of a like product; (4) a union or group of workers representative of an industry manufacturing, producing or wholesaling a like product; and (5) a trade or business association, a majority of whose members manufacture, produce, or wholesale a like product.

House bill

Expands the definition of an interested party with standing to file AD or CVD petitions to include coalitions of firms, unions, or trade associations that have individual standing.

Senate bill

Identical provision except does not make conforming changes in title 28, USC.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to adopt the House provision.

The purpose of the amendment is to broaden the class of an interested party which has standing to file petitions under the countervailing duty or antidumping laws. This standing requirement would be met as long as a majority of the combined membership of the coalition individually meets the standing requirements under present law and represents the industry producing the like product. This provision is intended to overturn the decision of the Court of International Trade in Matsushita Electrical Co. v. United States, 529 F. Supp. 664 (CIT 1981).

11. Simultaneous Investigations

11.a. Hearings (sec. 716 of House bill; sec. 605 of Senate bill)

Present law

Section 774(a) requires the administering authority and the ITC each to hold a hearing before making their final CVD or AD determinations, upon the request of any party to the investigation.

House bill

If investigations are initiated under both laws within 6 months of each other but before a final injury determination in either case regarding the same merchandise from the same country, only one ITC hearing would be required. The ITC could require a hearing in extraordinary circumstances and would allow submission of additional relevant written comments.

Senate bill

Identical, except the ITC could require hearings during each investigation in "special" rather than "extraordinary" circumstances.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision.

11.b. Time periods (sec. 709 of Senate bill)

Present law

In normal cases, preliminary CVD determinations are required within 85 days, final determination within 75 days thereafter; AD preliminary determinations are required within 160 days, final determinations within 75 days thereafter. Time periods are extended in extraordinary complicated cases.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

If a CVD investigation is initiated simultaneously with an AD investigation on the same merchandise from the same countries, the administering authority, if requested by the petitioner, shall extend the date for the final CVD determination to the date of the final AD determination.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision.

12. Verification of Information

12.a. CVD Preliminary determinations (sec. 609 of Senate bill)

Present law

No provision in CVD cases. Section 733(b)(2) provides a procedure in AD cases whereby the administering authority makes a preliminary determination within 90 rather than 160 days if sufficient information is received in the first 60 days and the petitioner and each interested party waives verification of that information.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Provides for expedited CVD preliminary determinations upon waiver of verification similar to the procedure under section 733(b)(2) for AD cases, except the review would occur within 55 (rather than 75) days based on information received within first 50 (rather than 60) days.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to adopt the Senate provision.

12.b. Annual review/revocation (sec. 717 of House bill)

Present law

The administering authority is required by section 776(a) to verify all information relied upon in making a final CVD or AD determination. If verification is not possible, the administering authority uses the best information available to it for making the determination. Verification is not required by statute in annual review proceedings under section 751. However, the administering authority normally verifies information where it believes there is a significant issue of law or fact.

House bill

Requires verification of information whenever the administering authority revokes a CVD or AD order.

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Requires verification of information used in annual reviews and of outstanding CVD and AD orders if timely requested by an interested party; such verification is not required if it has occurred upon timely request in the two immediately previous annual reviews, except for good cause shown.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to adopt the House provision. This amendment generally codifies the current administrative practice of the Department of Commerce. As under current law, the administering authority is authorized to use the best information available as the basis for its action if it does not receive timely, complete, or accurate responses, or if it is unable to verify the accuracy of the information submitted. The express reference in the statute to the use of information submitted in support of the petition as the best information available for purposes of final determinations in investigations should not be interpreted as precluding the administering authority from using the best information available for purposes of administrative reviews.

13. Confidential Information

13.a. Release (sec. 718 of House bill; sec. 606 of Senate bill)

Present law

Information submitted to the administering authority or the ITC designated as confidential cannot be disclosed to any person (other than those directly concerned with carrying out the investigation) without the consent of the person submitting it unless pursuant to a protective order upon receipt of an application which describes the information requested and reason for the request. Legislative history states the expectation that disclosure generally will be made only to attorneys who are subject to disbarment from practice before the agency.

House bill

Permits release of confidential information to an officer or employee of the U.S. Customs Service directly involved in conducting an investigation regarding fraud; provides a standardized procedure for requesting confidential treatment and obtaining release of confidential information; and precludes any distinction between corporate and retained counsel in ITC and administering authority regulations governing issuance of protective orders.

Senate bill

Identical provision in substance, except does not include provision removing the distinction between corporate and retained counsel in issuance of protective orders.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision.

13.b. Definition of terms (sec. 622 of Senate bill)

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Substitutes term "proprietary business" for "confidential" throughout section.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision.

14. Judicial review

Present law

Title V of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by Title X of the Trade Agreements Act of 1979, provides for judicial review of CVD and AD proceedings initially in the U.S. Court of International Trade (CIT). The Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit may review the CIT's decision on an appeal. Under section 516A, certain determinations by the administering authority are reviewable by the CIT prior to the issuance of a final determination or the publication of a final order, i.e., certain interlocutory determinations are reviewable immediately even though the administrative proceeding has not been concluded. Those interlocutory findings which may be reviewed immediately include a negative preliminary determination by the administering authority under section 703(a) or 733(a), a determination that a case is "extraordinarily complicated" under section 703(c) or 733(c), and any annual review determinations under section 751.

14.a. Interlocutory appeals (sec. 720 of House bill)

House bill

(1) Eliminates all interlocutory judicial reviews by the U.S. Court of International trade during the course of CVD and AD investigations. All challenges to agency determinations would be combined and reviewable by the court after final agency action has been taken.

Senate bill

(1) No provision.

House bill

(2) Clarifies when negative portions of affirmative determinations may be reviewed: any part of a final affirmative determination by the administering authority which specifically excludes any company or product may, at the option of the appellant, be treated as a final negative determination and may be subject to appeal within 30 days of publication; other negative aspects of an affirmative determination would be appealable within 30 days after publication of a final order, and if an appellant so chooses, appeal of those portions of an affirmative finding which exclude a product or a company may also be appealed within 30 days of publication of a final order, instead of within 30 days of the determination.

Senate bill

(2) No provision.

House bill

(3) Clarifies that a final affirmative determination by the administering authority may be contested when an appeal is based on a negative determination by the ITC that is predicated on the size of the dumping margin or net subsidy.

Senate bill

(3) No provision.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the House provision.

14.b. Court of International Trade (sec. 603 of Senate bill)

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Eliminates the U.S. Court of International trade from judicial review of determinations so all appeals go directly to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit; makes conforming changes in section 2639(a)(1) and 2647 of 28 U.S.C.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to strike the Senate provision.

15. Assessment of CVDs (sec. 711 of Senate bill)

Present law

Section 706 requires publication of CVD order assessing CVD equal to amount of net subsidy determined or estimated to exist.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Presumptively applies a CVD order to all merchandise from the country, except it may provide for differing CVDs if (1) the administering authority determines there is a significant differential between companies receiving subsidy benefits; or (2) a state-owned enterprise is involved.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision.

This provision is intended to lessen the administrative burden on the administering authority stemming from implementing company-specific rates. The amendment continues to permit individual company rates for significant differences in benefits. The administering authority is expected to determine under what conditions company-specific rates are appropriate when one of the requirements of paragraph 2 are met.

16. Security in Lieu of Estimated Duty (sec. 714 of Senate bill)

Present law

Section 736(c) allows waiver of cash deposit for 90 days if administering authority is satisfied based on evidence presented by foreign producers that it can do a review of United States price and foreign market value in 90 days.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Adds the following conditions which must be met before the administering authority may permit posting of bond or other security in lieu of deposit of estimated AD duties:

1. the case was not designated extraordinarily complicated or the final determination was not postponed;

(2) the party provides credible evidence that the weighted average of the amount by which the foreign value exceeds the U.S. price is significantly less than the amount of such excess specified in the AD order; and

(3) the date on foreign market value and U.S. price apply to sales in the usual wholesale quantities and ordinary course of trade and the number of sales is sufficient to form an adequate basis for comparison.

Requires, before permitting posting of bond or other security, that the administering authority (1) make all confidential information available under protective order to all interested parties to the proceeding and (2) afford all interested parties an opportunity to file written comments.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to strike the Senate provision.

17. Administrative Review of CVD or AD Determinations

17.a. Annual reviews (sec. 713 of House bill)

Present law

Section 751(a) requires that at least once during each 12-month period following publication of a CVD or AD order, or notice of suspension of an investigation, the administering authority must (1) review and determine the amount of any net subsidy; (2) review and determine the amount of any AD duty; and (3) review the current status of, and compliance with, any suspension agreement including the amount of any net subsidy or dumping margin involved.

House bill

Requires annual reviews of outstanding CVD or AD orders only upon request.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the House provision. Item 17(a) is designed to limit the number of reviews in cases in which there is little or no interest, thus limiting the burden on petitioners and respondents, as well as the administering authority. The committee intends the administering authority should provide by regulation for the assessment of antidumping and countervailing duties on entries for which review is not requested, including the elimination of suspension of liquidation, and/or the conversion of cash deposits of estimated duties, previously ordered. Further, the administering authority should be able to revoke antidumping or countervailing duties that are no longer of interest to domestic interested parties.

17.b. Revocation (secs. 702, 707 of Senate bill)

Present law

The administering authority may revoke a CVD or AD order in whole or in part or terminate a suspended investigation after a section 751(a) review.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Requires that during an ITC investigation, the party seeking revocation of an AD order have the burden of persuasion on whether there are changed circumstances sufficient to warrant revocation.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Prohibits negative ITC determinations in its review of section 303 cases by request or revocation of CVD orders or termination of suspended investigations on the basis of offsets.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision. Item 17(b) is intended to clarify the role of the ITC in review investigations under section 751 of the Tariff Act of 1930. In Matsushita v. United States, 569, F. Supp. 853 (CIT 1983), the court reviewed a decision of the ITC in Television Receiving Sets from Japan, Inv. No. 751-TA-2, USITC Pub. No. 153 (1981). The ITC had found that the domestic television industry would be threatened with material injury if the antidumping order on Japanese televisions were to be revoked. The court held that the ITC's review "failed to establish the continuing need for the injury determination", reasoning that "when the continued necessity for the antidumping duty is placed in question by a change in circumstances, the review required by section 751(b) must either find reason for continuation of the duty or lead to revocation." The court held that the ITC's determination was not supported by substantial evidence of threat and had not established the continued need for the antidumping order.

The Managers believe that the Matsushita decision incorrectly places the burden of persuasion on the domestic industry in section 751 review investigations. The effect of the Matsushita decision is that the ITC's investigation must establish through substantial evidence the continued need for the antidumping order. This standard creates a difficult task for the domestic industry, since the existence of an antidumping order is a discipline on the pricing practices of foreign manufacturers. Because the order offsets the effects of any dumping, the order makes it difficult for the industry to show present material injury resulting from the effects of dumping or to point to present demonstrable adverse trends which establish a threat of material injury.

The purpose of section 751 review investigations is to determine whether there are changed circumstances sufficient to warrant revocation of an antidumping order. The ITC must evaluate the changed circumstances alleged to determine whether revocation is appropriate in light of current factor and conditions of trade.

In section 751 review investigations, as in all Commission antidumping and countervailing duty investigations, neither petitioner nor respondent has a burden of proof. The Commission conducts its own fact-finding in antidumping and countervailing duty investigations. The duty of the parties is to cooperate with the Commission's requests for information. The Commission, for its part, has a duty to conduct a thorough investigation within the context of the strict time constraints of the dumping and countervailing duty law and to seek the information necessary for a reasoned determination. See Budd Company Railway Division v. United States, 507 F. Supp. 997, 1003 (CIT 1980).

The absence of any burden of proof does not mean, however, that a section 751 review is without a burden of persuasion. A foreign manufacturer, after all, is subject to an antidumping order because it was previously found to have engaged in injurious dumping. For that reason, a section 751 review does not begin from an entirely neutral starting point. The party seeking revocation of the order has a burden of persuasion, in the sense that at the end of the investigation, the ITC must be convinced that revocation of the order is appropriate. In short, the ITC must determine that, in light of the "changed circumstances," the revocation of the order will not result in material injury or threat of material injury to the U.S. industry.

18. Critical Circumstances Determinations (sec. 612 of Senate bill)

Present law

If the petitioner alleges, and the administering authority finds critical circumstances in an affirmative preliminary CVD or AD determination, suspension of liquidation applies to unliquidated entries retroactively 90 days. No explicit authority under section 705(a) or 735(a) to make affirmative critical circumstances findings in final determinations, if preliminary finding was negative.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Clarifies that the final CVD or AD determination on critical circumstances may be affirmative even though the preliminary determination (PD) was negative.

If final critical circumstances determination is affirmative, then the administering authority shall—

(1) continue retroactive suspension of liquidation and posting of cash deposit or security if PD on both subsidies or dumping and critical circumstances were affirmative;

(2) apply previous suspension of liquidation and security requirement retroactively 90 days to unliquidated entries if PD on subsidies or dumping was affirmative but critical circumstances negative; or (3) apply any suspension of liquidation and security requirement under section 705(c)(1)(B) to unliquidated entries retroactively 90 days if the PD on subsidies or dumping was negative.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision.

19. Waiver of Deposit of Estimated AD Duties (sec 613 of Senate bill)

Present law

Scope of section 736(c)(1) covers all merchandise entered into the United States as of the date of the first affirmative AD determination (i.e. whether or not sold to an unrelated purchaser which is necessary to compute price).

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Changes scope of section 736(c)(1) to cover only entries entered and resold to unrelated purchasers during the period between the first affirmative AD determination and the ITC's final affirmative determination.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision.

20. Conditional Payment of CVD Duties (sec. 614 of Senate bill)

Present law

No provision.

Section 738 requires prior deposit of estimated AD duties with Customs on all entries or removal from warehouse of merchandise subject to AD order.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision.

22. Duties of Customs Officers (sec. 616 of Senate bill)

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Strikes section 739.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision.

23. Commercial Quantities of Merchandise (sec. 617 of Senate bill)

Present law

Uses term "wholesale" quantities in section 771(14), (17), and section 773(a)(1) and (a)(4).

24.a. Purchase price (sec. 618 of Senate bill)

Present law

No explicit provision in section 772(b).

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Amends section 772(b) so a reseller's price may serve as purchase price if it is prior to the date of importation and the merchandise is for exportation to the United States.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision.

24. b. Foreign market value (sec. 619 of Senate bill)

Present law

Under section 773 the foreign market value in an exporter's sales price situation is the price at the time of exportation of the merchandise to the United States.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

(1) Amends section 773(a)(1) so the foreign market value in an exporter's sales price situation is the price at the time the goods are sold in the United States to an unrelated party.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision.

House bill

Senate bill

(2) Adds provision to treat an intermediate country as the country from which merchandise was exported if: (1) a reseller purchases the merchandise from the manufacturer or producer; (2) the manufacturer or producer does not know the country at time of sale to the reseller; (3) the merchandise is exported by or on behalf of such reseller to a country other than the U.S.; (4) the merchandise enters the commerce of that country but is not substantially transformed; and (5) the merchandise is subsequently exported to the U.S.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision.

25. Sampling and Averaging (sec. 719 of House bill; sec. 608 of Senate bill)

Present law

For purposes of determining foreign market value only in AD investigations, section 773(1) authorizes the administering authority to use averaging or sampling techniques whenever a significant volume of sales is involved or a significant number of price adjustments is required, and to decline to take into account adjustments which are insignificant in relation to the price or value of the merchandise.

House bill

Expands the instances in which the administering authority may use sampling and averaging techniques. Authorizes the administering authority, in determining United States price or foreign market value in AD investigations under section 772 and 773 or in carrying out annual reviews of outstanding AD or CUD orders under section 751, to use averaging or generally recognized sampling techniques whenever a significant volume of sales is involved or a significant number of adjustments to price is required, and to decline to take into account adjustments which are insignificant in relation to the price or value of the merchandise.

Senate bill

Identical provision.

Conference agreement

The House and Senate provisions are identical.

26. Adjustments Study (sec. 732 of House bill; sec. 607 of Senate bill)

Present law

Various statutory adjustments are provided for to obtain comparability between United States price and foreign market value for purposes of determining dumping margins.

House bill

Requires the Secretary of Commerce to undertake a study of current practices that are applied in making adjustments to purchase price, exporter's sales price, foreign market value, and constructed value in determining dumping duties. The Secretary must complete the study within one year after the date of enactment of the bill and submit a written report to the Congress. The report would contain whatever recommendations the Secretary deems appropriate on the need and means for simplifying and modifying current adjustment practices.

Senate bill

Identical provision.

Conference agreement

The House and Senate provisions are identical.

27. Subsidies Discovered during Proceedings (sec. 620 of Senate bill)

Present law

Section 775 uses term "investigation".

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Amends section 777(a)(3) to provide that ex parte record requirement applies to "proceedings" not just investigations, and shall be written if information relating to that proceeding is presented or discussed.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to the Senate provision.

29. Interest (sec. 623 of Senate bill)

Present law

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to strike the Senate provision.

31. Definition of Domestic Industry (see 731 of House bill; sec. 212 of Senate bill)

Present law

The term "industry" for purposes of CVD and AD investigations means the domestic producers of a "like product", and the term "like products" has been defined and interpreted to include only those products which are identical or most similar in their characteristics to the imported article. Accordingly, producers of products being incorporated into a processed or manufactured article (i.e., intermediate goods or component parts) are generally not included in the scope of the domestic industry that the ITC analyzes for the purposes of determining injury.

House bill

Defines the domestic industry for purposes of CVD or AD investigations on wine and grape products to include producers of the principal raw agricultural product, if they allege material injury or threat, as well the producers of wine and grape products. A previous petition may be refiled under the section if the purpose is to avail the petitioner of this amendment.

Senate bill

Defines the domestic industry for purposes of CVD or AD investigations on any processed agricultural product to include the producers of the principal raw agricultural products if they allege material injury or threat thereof, as well as the producers of the processed product.

Any previous petition may be refiled under this section.

Conference agreement

Senate recedes to the House with the following modification: the provision would expire after two years.

The ITC should review the possibility of developing distinctions among the types and uses of grapes in the event that disputes in this area arise at other times.

33. References (sec. 701 of House bill; secs. 601, 701 of Senate bill)

Contains provisions related section 612(a)(1) to enable refileing of a petition to avail the petitioner of the amendment and to sunset the amendment under that section as of September 30, 1986.

Subject: Small Business Trade Assistance and Trade Monitoring

1. Trade Remedy Assistance (sec. 601 of House bill; sec. 602 of Senate bill)

Present law

No provision

House bill

Establishes a Trade Remedy Assistance Office in the ITC to provide information to the public, upon request, concerning remedies and benefits available under the various trade laws and procedural requirements.

Each agency responsible for administering these laws must provide technical assistance to small businesses (without adequate internal resources nor financial ability to obtain qualified outside assistance) to enable them to prepare and file petitions and applications.

Senate bill

Identical in substance, except it establishes the office in the Commerce Department instead of the ITC and the list of trade laws covered is illustrative, not all inclusive.

Conference agreement

House provision.

2. Small Business Advocate (sec. 624 of Senate bill)

Present law

No provision.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Establishes a Small Business International Trade Advocate Office in the Commerce Department to assist small businesses as (defined in Small Business Act) in preparation for, and participation in, any proceeding relating to administration of U.S. trade laws. The Advocate:

a. may, upon request, initiate a CVD or AD investigation and intervene in any AD or CVD proceeding if the small business is unable to finance initiation or participation;

b. shall have all the rights of an interested party;

c. may request the ITC to conduct not more than 3 investigations annually to assist small businesses in preparing for AD or CVD proceedings; and

d. must report to Ways and Means and Finance Committees annually on its activities.

Conference agreement

Senate recedes.

3. Targeting Monitoring Program (sec. 601 of House bill)

Present law

No provision.

House bill

Requires the ITC to establish a continuing program to monitor and analyze foreign industrial plans and policies in order to discover whether targeting subsidies are being planned or have been implemented. Priority would be given to countries and product sectors in which the U.S. has significant economic or commercial interests, after consultations with other agencies and public comments. The ITC must regularly report the information to the administering authority and make non-confidential information available to the public. Each agency must provide the ITC, upon request, such information as the ITC considers necessary or appropriate to carry out these functions.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

House recesses.

4. Industrial targeting studies (sec. 602 of House bill).

Present law

No provision.

House bill

Requires the Secretaries of Commerce and Labor, the USTR, and the Comptroller General to each undertake and submit to Congress not later than 6/1/85 a comprehensive study of problems of foreign industrial targeting including:

- a. whether it is an unfair trade practice;
- b. whether existing laws adequately address the subsidy element;
- c. extent targeting significantly affects U.S. commerce; and
- d. any recommended legislation necessary.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

House provision.

Subject: Nonmarket Economy Imports (sections 801-803 of Senate bill)

1. Establishment of Artificial Pricing Remedy for Nonmarket Economy Imports (Sec. 801 of Senate bill)

Present law

Dumping. Antidumping duties may be imposed on imported products sold at less-than-fair value and that cause or threaten material injury to a domestic industry. Less-than-fair value is the amount by which the foreign market value exceeds the U.S. price of the product.

Subsidies. Countervailing duties may be imposed on imported products benefitting directly or indirectly from a subsidy with respect to the manufacture, production, or exportation of the product. If the country of origin is a signatory to the GATT Subsidies Code or has undertaken similar commitments, then countervailing duties will be imposed only if the subsidized product is injuring or threatening material injury to a domestic industry. However, the Department of Commerce has determined that the countervailing duty laws cannot be applied to nonmarket economy imports. (This decision is pending judicial resolution).

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

For products imported from nonmarket economy countries, "artificial pricing duties" may be imposed if the products are sold at an "artificial price." The artificial pricing duty is an amount by which the actual price of the product is less than the "minimum allowable import price." If the nonmarket economy country is a GATT member, a signatory to the Subsidies Code, or has undertaken similar commitments, then the imported article must be injuring or threatening material injury to the domestic industry making the like product before duties are imposed.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to strike Senate provision.

2. Pricing Standard (Sec. 802 of Senate bill)

Present law

In dumping cases, foreign market value is calculated according to the following methodological hierarchy:

- a. Home market prices reasonable adjusted for such differences as sales level, physical characteristics, etc.;
- b. Prices of exports to countries other than the U.S., similarly adjusted;
- c. Constructed value, based on adjusted material cost plus general expenses and profits;
- d. For state-controlled economy countries, the home-market price of similar merchandise produced in a surrogate market economy country, or the constructed value in the surrogate.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

The "minimum allowable import price" means:

- a. the trade-weighted average price of market economy producers of a like product in their exports to the U.S. in arms-length sales; or
- b. if there are no eligible market economy producers, the constructed value of the product in a market economy country; or
- c. if the price under the first method cannot be determined, then the price by which similar merchandise is sold by an eligible market economy foreign producer to the U.S., or to other countries if there are no U.S. sales.

"Eligible market economy foreign producers" are producers of like products exporting to the U.S. and not subject to antidumping or countervailing duty orders.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to strike Senate provision.

3. Showing of Injury by U.S. Industry. (Sec. 801 of Senate bill)

Present law

In dumping proceedings, antidumping duties cannot be imposed unless the dumped imported articles are determined to be injuring or threatening material injury to a U.S. industry producing a like product.

In subsidy cases, injury to a domestic industry must be shown only if the imports originate in a country that is a party to the GATT Subsidies Code or has undertaken similar commitments.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Material injury to a U.S. industry producing a like product must be shown only with respect to nonmarket economy countries that are members of the GATT, of the GATT Subsidies Code, or have undertaken similar commitments.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to strike Senate provision.

4. Initiation of Artificial Pricing Investigation (Sec. 801 of Senate bill)

Present law

Dumping and subsidy investigations normally are initiated upon receipt of a petition from an interested party representing the industry making a product like the imported product. The Commerce Department also may self-initiate investigations.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

An artificial pricing investigation may be self-initiated by the Commerce Department or initiated after receipt of a petition from an interested party making a product like the imported article.

Further, if in an ongoing antidumping or countervailing duty investigation the Commerce Department determines that the industry is not market oriented, or that there is insufficient verifiable information to proceed normally, the proceeding will be converted into an artificial pricing investigation.

Conversely, if in an on-going artificial pricing investigation sufficient verifiable information is provided to determine either foreign market value or subsidization, and that the industry under investigation is market-oriented, the investigation will be converted into an antidumping or countervailing duty proceeding, as appropriate.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to strike Senate provision.

5. Procedures for Conducting Artificial Pricing Investigation (sec. 801 of Senate bill)

Present law

The following are the basic elements of both dumping and subsidy investigations:

- a. Commerce initiates investigation.
- b. ITC begins injury investigation if Commerce initiates.
- c. ITC makes preliminary determination of whether there is reasonable indication of material injury.
- d. If (3) affirmative, Commerce proceeds to determine preliminarily if there is reasonable basis to believe dumping exists.
- e. Commerce makes final determination.
- f. If (5) is affirmative, ITC makes final determination of injury.
- g. If (6) is affirmative, antidumping order is issued.

In general, the time limits for subsidy cases are shorter than for dumping cases. Also, whether the ITC conducts an injury investigation in a subsidy case depends on the country of origin of the imported product.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

The elements, procedures, and time limits for artificial pricing investigations are the same as for normal subsidy investigations.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to strike Senate provision.

6. Effective Date (sec. 803 of Senate bill)

Present law

No provision.

House bill

No provision.

Senate bill

Petitions, requests, resolutions after date of enactment.

Conference agreement

The Conferees agreed to strike the Senate provision.

Senate recesses with an amendment to the sense-of-Congress provision regarding fair import share. The conference agreement states the sense of Congress that full implementation of the national policy for the steel industry will result in a steel import market share in the range of 17.0 to 20.2 percent. This range covers the market shares identified both in the House bill and the President's national policy based on his September 18 announcement.

11. Enforcement Authority: General provision (sec. 905(a) of House bill; sec. 715, 243 of Senate bill)

Present law

Authorizes Sec. of Treasury to require presentation of a valid export license or other documents issued by the EC for entry into the U.S. of steel mill products subject to the U.S.-EC Arrangement on Carbon Steel.

House bill

Authorizes President to enforce the quantitative limitations and restrictions (including export measures required by a foreign government) contained in each bilateral arrangement, subject to the annual renewal provisions. Such actions may include, but are not limited to, requirements that valid export licenses or other documentation issued by a foreign government be presented as a condition for the entry into the U.S.

Senate bill

Section 715. Authorizes Sec. of Treasury, upon receipt of a request by the President and by a foreign government, to require the presentation of a valid export license or other documents issued by such foreign government as a condition for entry into the U.S. of steel products specified in the request.

Section 243. Authorizes Sec. of Commerce to request the Sec. of Treasury to take action to enforce the terms of the U.S.-EC Arrangement on Pipe and Tube as identified by the Sec. of Commerce. (Sec. of Commerce determines whether exports are exceeding limits or distortion among categories is occurring).

Conference agreement

11. Senate recedes with an amendment to the House provision. The conference agreement generally is based on the House provision and incorporates compromise provisions with regard to enforcement of the U.S.-EC Arrangement on Export of Steel Pipes and Tubes and short supply circumstances. The conference agreement includes the general enforcement authority contained in the House bill. The authority applies to enforcement of all "bilateral arrangements" regarding steel products. In addition, it includes specific authority with respect to enforcement of the U.S.-E.C. Arrangement on Pipe and Tube. The enforcement authority provided under section 805(b) with respect to the EC Arrangement is subject, however, to a further provision with respect to short supply or emergency economic situations. The conference agreement allows the Secretary of Commerce to permit importation of additional quantities of specific products in cases where the Secretary determines that conditions of short supply or emergency economic situations related to market demand exist, including but not limited to demand for specific products that will be used in processing or further production. Conditions of short supply or emergency economic situations shall not be deemed to exist, however, solely because domestic producers are unwilling to supply products at prices below their costs of production. What constitutes domestic producers' cost of production shall be determined by the Secretary of Commerce. The purpose of this short supply provision is to permit existing restrictions on steel imports to be revised or temporarily altered, for example, when supplies of certain steel products from domestic and other suppliers are unable to meet the market demand for such products by domestic purchasers (including processors and fabricators). Domestic suppliers shall not be considered unable to meet such market demand, however, solely on the basis of their unwillingness to sell their products at prices below their costs of production. This provision is designed to protect domestic purchasers of steel products from undue hardship due to an inability to obtain adequate supplies from domestic sources.

12. Enforcement Authority: Application (sec. 905(b) of House bill; sec. 243 of Senate bill).

Present law

No provision.

16. Annual Determination: Basic test (sec. 906(b)(1) of House bill)

Present law

No provision.

House bill

President must determine that the domestic steel industry, taken as a whole, has, during the previous year, (a) committed substantially all of its net cash flow steel operations to reinvest in and modernization of the steel industry; and (b) taken sufficient action to maintain its international competitiveness, including discipline of costs and prices.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

Senate recesses with an amendment to the House provision. The conference agreement includes an overall requirement that the major companies, taken as a whole, commit substantially all of their net cash flow from steel operations to reinvestment and modernization of their steel operations and worker retraining programs, and that the major companies, taken as a whole, take sufficient action to maintain their international competitiveness. This provision of the conference agreement reflects a compromise with respect to the industry-wide cash flow requirement and the company-specific cash flow requirement of the House bill. The conference agreement still requires an analysis of the actions of major companies, as defined by this section, but provides that the annual determination the President must make is with respect to the major companies taken as a whole. The purposes for which net cash flow may be used are generally the same as in the House bill, except that net cash flow may not be used for purposes of payment on debt, because the definition of net cash flow was amended to provide for payment of debt.

Paragraph (1)(A)(ii) requires the major companies, taken as a whole, to take sufficient action to maintain their international competitiveness. Such action includes, but is not limited to, action to produce price- and quality-competitive products, to control costs of production, and to improve productivity. Control of costs of production includes employment costs, which refers broadly to wages, benefits and bonuses for both hourly and salaried employees. This compromise provision reflects a concern that both management and labor make significant contributions to the effort to maintain the domestic steel industry's international competitiveness.

17. Annual Determination: Company-specific cash flow requirement (sec. 906(b)(2)(A) of House bill)

Present law

No provision.

House bill

The industry-wide net cash flow requirement will not be met unless each of the major companies with significant reinvestment and modernization needs has committed all of its net cash flow (minus the amount required for worker retraining) to meet those needs.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

House recedes.

18. Annual determination: Company-specific worker retraining (sec. 906(b)(2)(B) of House bill)

Present law

No provision.

House bill

The industry-wide net cash flow requirement will also not be met unless each of the major companies that has or reasonably anticipates significant unemployment has committed at least 1% of net cash flow to worker retraining.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

Senate recedes with an amendment to the House provision.

The conference agreement requires the President to determine that each of the major companies, during the applicable 12-month period, committed not less than 1% of net cash flow to the retraining of workers. If the President finds that a major company is not in compliance with this provision, however, he is further authorized to waive the requirement with respect to that company, if he finds unusual economic circumstances exist with respect to that company. This waiver authority is not designed to allow companies to avoid the 1% retraining commitment, but is designed to allow the President's general enforcement authority to renew for another year when unusual economic circumstances justify a particular company's commitment of less than 1% of net cash flow to retraining.

The types of retraining programs and assistance which may be included in the 1% commitment and the further interpretation of this requirement with respect to the phrase "retraining of workers" are set forth in House Report 98-1089 with respect to section 6 of H.R. 6301. The retraining assistance provided under this provision shall be made available to current workers and former workers of that major company who were laid off at any time since January 1, 1982.

19. Annual determination: Definition of "major company" (sec. 906(b)(3)(A) of House bill)

Present law

No provision.

House bill

"Major company" means an enterprise whose raw steel production in 1983 exceeded 1.5 million tons; reaches the 8 largest steel producers.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

Senate recedes.

20. Annual Determination: Definition of "net cash flow" (sec. 906(b)(3)(B) of House bill)

Present law

No provision.

House bill

"Net cash flow" means annual net (after-tax) income plus depreciation, depletion allowances, amortization, and changes in reserves minus dividends.

Senate bill

No provision.

Conference agreement

Senate recedes with an amendment to the House provision. Net cash flow shall be determined according to generally accepted accounting principles. To determine net cash flow, annual net income is increased by depreciation, depletion allowances, amortization, and changes in reserves. Reserves would generally include noncash expenses such as deferred taxes or inventory reserves. In addition, annual net income is decreased by dividends and payment on short- and long-term debt and other liabilities. The conferees intend that payment on short- and long-term debt and other liabilities means the net reduction in such debt and liabilities, i.e., net cash flow would reflect both reductions and increases in debt and liabilities.

21. Annual Determination: Source of information (sec. 906(b)(4) of House bill)

Present law

No provision.

House bill

President shall base his annual determination on information available from the ITC and other appropriate sources.

House bill

If the President after taking into account information and advice, has reason to believe a barrier to, or other distortion of, trade in U.S. wine is a violation of or inconsistent with a trade agreement or is unjustifiable, unreasonable, or discriminatory and burdens or restricts U.S. commerce, he must take action under section 301, if he determines such action is appropriate.
