

Bcc: David Keene[REDACTED]; Ryan Repp[ryan.repp@brownells.com]
To: Maria Butina[REDACTED@gmail.com]
From: Pete Brownell
Sent: 2015-12-04T20:31:54Z
Importance: Normal
Subject: Re: The Schedule For Moscow
Received: 2015-12-04T20:31:54Z

Maria,

Good morning. I am absolutely amazed at the access and opportunities being presented with this agenda.

There is a lot of momentum already set in motion and my involvement might change some of these plans. Primarily the publicity extras which could be a benefit for some but actually cause me to have problems.

You have done an excellent job planning this trip and organizing events and I hate to add complexity to your planning. Given positions my business has with our government and other U.S. Government affiliations, media will put all of them in jeopardy.

The core request is to follow the same protocols as outlined by Mr. David Keene.

As I understand and strongly agree, the delegate lead is David then Joe Gregory. My position is more along the lines of an observer.

While being able to participate in all meetings on 5th and 6th there are State requested protocols for meetings with individuals in or near political positions I must follow. I'll need to work with you on this upon arrival.

I would also like to be press free in this trip for me. Meaning no photos or public forum speeches for public and most defiantly social consumption.

I am using "like" in above paragraph to politely indicate it is a requirement I have.

From the sounds of this last email there are some components that will need to be canceled when it comes to photographing and building a media presence where I am involved. I just can not be the public face of these efforts right now.

David and Joe are the very best people to represent our delegation when these opportunities arise.

The impetus of this trip is a relationship building trip; one where we build the next generation of relationships between our countries, our industries and our associations. This is still my hope.

Sorry to deliver this via email. It is a topic I wanted to discuss directly with you upon arrival. I realize this puts a damper on part of your plans for the events I am involved in. I certainly hope the remainder of the agenda and objectives we both have remain intact.

Pete

Sent from my iPhone
Brownells
[REDACTED]

On Dec 4, 2015, at 10:35 AM, Maria Butina <[REDACTED]@gmail.com> wrote:

Dear Pete,

First of all I wish you a pleasant flight and look forward to meet you in Moscow tomorrow!

In the attached file you see the schedule of YOUR days in Moscow. I will be with you everywhere - do not worry please. In the same file there are note about all people and places your are going to be.

Mr Torshin is very happy that you are coming earlier and invites you to the dinner in a very interesting members only restaurant. You will love it! Trust me.

Notice please that my personal photographer (one of the best in Moscow) will take several pictures of you on Sunday. You are the star now and we need your pictures for all Russian magazines. It's just easier to take them in advance.

See you soon!

I am always available on by both cells:

American [REDACTED]

Russian - [REDACTED]

At the hotel adapters will be provided and wifi is free in your room. Also expect a small surprise from me and Mr Torshin.

Good luck!

Sincerely,

Maria Butina

Founding Chairman / Board Member

All-Russian Public Organization The Right to Bear Arms

[REDACTED]

<Mr Brownell's Scedule Moscow Russia (As December 4).docx>