

To whom concern

I propose and idea to generate a public private alliance to:

Generate a service that connect all the small farmers to commerce.

Small farmer will have to provide:

Up to date census of his production (monthly/yearly) and his capacity

Comply with standard of adequate agriculture practices and quality assurance

Small farmer will receive:

100% sales in production

Growth plan based on market demand

Collection of production at farm

Group discount (fertilizer, pesticides)

Group resource distribution (tractor, man power)

Agronomist from government 24/7

Continuous education from government resources

Access and streamline to Financial Aid federal and local agencies

The company will provide:

Updated list with availability of products, price and futures census to satisfy market needs

Ensure 100% of sales from local production

Design growth plan for farmers

Connect the government with market and farmers to: use available resources (professors, agronomist, economist, etc)

Connect the farmer and the market – initially local and opportunity to export to other markets

A network to collect, process, package and distribute 100 % of the farmers products

The government will:

Create new jobs

Help to identify export opportunities

Legislate to ensure that local product will sell first and imported product will only satisfy deficit in market if not completed by local production

Will ensure adequate use of lands and agriculture to ensure public health which will result in larger economic and social benefits

Will provide real state for operations

Increase economy

Just my ideas

Thanks

William O Hurtado Santiago, MD